The Museum of Art.

The site upon which the Museum of Art is to be erected is bounded by Eightieth and Eighty-fourth streets, and by the Fifth avenue and Central Park.

The appropriation which was made by the Legislature for the construction of the building amounts, as in the case of the Museum of Natural History, to $500,000. For this sum no building worthy of the City and of the object could be constructed, and it was resolved by the Park Commissioners and the officers of the Art Museum that the building to be now erected be so constructed that it would, as in the case of the Museum of Natural History, be complete in itself for the present, but at some future day could be formed into one part or section of a more extensive and commodious edifice. Messrs. Vaux and Mould, the architects of the department, were instructed accordingly, and are just now completing plans for the proposed museum. The grand building, when finished, will be in the form of a parallelogram, and will inclose six garden courts. In it will be contained halls and saloons for the exhibition of paintings, statuary, works of engineering, mechanical drawings, bronzes, pottery, and works of art generally. The main building will be 956 feet long, with ten wings extending to a length of 936 feet. At the southern end of the principal structure a hall for panoramas will be built. This will be 250 feet long. The style of architecture will be Venetian Gothic. The museum will have a height of 70 feet to cornice, and from that to the ridge of the Mansard roof will be 20 feet higher. Seventeen towers and domes will decorate the roof and cluster around one grand dome, which is to rise above the main or central hall. The material to be used in the construction of the building will be Philadelphia brick and light gray and brown granite. It is estimated that the entire cost of construction will be about $10,000,000.

The section now to be built by authorization of and with the $500,000 appropriated by the Legislature of 1871, will be only one-twentieth part of the whole structure, as shown by the plans of the architect. It will form about the middle part of the entire building, and will be 233 feet long by 99 feet wide. The general height will be, from the ground line to the cornice, 53 feet, and from thence to the ridge of the roof, about 30 feet more. The building will contain one large hall for the general exhibition of objects of art. This will occupy the principal or first floor, and will extend entirely to the roof, thus taking in two stories more. It will be 109 feet long and 95 feet wide. Until the completion of the more extensive structure contemplated, this will be used as the grand saloon of exhibition. From engaged and highly-decorated columns will spring iron ribs and arches which will support the roof, and be ornamented in various ways. Light will be admitted by an ingenious skylight arrangement and by plate-glass side windows. The ceiling, in that part not taken up by the skylight, will be decorated with fresco drawings by celebrated artists. The end walls are to be treated in the same way. The cornice is to be elaborately ornamented, with artistically arranged tiles and polished marble blocks. The floor will be of different colored marbles in novel patterns. Extending from and at either end of this principal saloon, will be two smaller exhibition halls and corridors for the reception of sculpture and large pieces of pottery and china. Above the entrance halls will be the grand saloons for the exhibition of paintings and water color drawings. These will be lighted by patent skylights from above, and will be fitted up with every known appliance for the proper display of pictures. The whole range of walls can be devoted to this purpose, as no side windows will be introduced.

The ground or entrance floor will be occupied at one end by reception and dressing-rooms, and at the other by offices and parlors for the use of the Directors and other officers of the museum. All these apartments will be handsomely fitted up and furnished. Rooms will also be provided on this floor for artists and art students. The basement will be occupied by necessary machinery, furnaces and coal vaults. Four stone staircases, carved and ornamented, will lead from the ground to the highest story. Two elevators will also be provided for the accommodation of visitors, and for the carrying of heavy pictures and statuary.

The exterior of the building will present a very simple but imposing appearance. From the ground to the principal story light-colored granite will be used. Above this Philadelphia and Baltimore brick will be employed. The dressings at the window arches and cornices are to be of light gray and Quincy granite. Above each window, and just below the granite arch, a block of highly polished and carved red marble will be placed. The frieze cornice will be decorated with incaustic tiles and polished granite, and upon this is to be placed the Mansard roof of slate squares, variously colored and arranged. The entire structure is to be surmounted with a crested ridge of bronze. The architects are doing everything in their power to make the building as fireproof as possible. Wood will only be used when absolutely necessary, and when it is employed it will be so bedded in iron or stone as to make a conflagration very improbable. The arrangements which are being made for heating and ventilation are very perfect. The furnace flues will be fire-brick and the coil pipes of iron. These will be placed, as in the Museum of Natural History, in front of a perforated iron windowsill, thus securing heat and perfect ventilation at the same time. When completed, the valuable collection of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, including the De Cesnola collection, will be placed in the building.

Borax for Colds.

A writer in The Medical Record cites a number of cases in which borax has proved a most effective remedy in certain forms of colds. He states that in sudden hoarseness or loss of voice in public speakers or singers, from colds, relief for an hour or so, as by magic, may be often obtained by slowly dissolving, and partially swallowing, a lump of borax, the size of a garden pea, or about three or four grains, held in the mouth for ten minutes before speaking or singing. This produces a profuse secretion of saliva, or "watering" of the mouth and throat, probably restoring the voice or tone to the dried vocal cords, just as wetting brings back the missing notes to a flute when it is too dry.

—A woman is employed as messenger at a colliery in Wales, and as she begins her duty early each morning, she meets great numbers of colliers going to their work. Some o them consider it a bad omen to meet a woman first thing in the morning, and, not having succeeded in deterring her from her work by other means, they waited upon the manager and declared that they would remain at home unless the woman was dismissed. Whether their superstitions whim was gratified is not stated.

VEGETINE.

PURIFIES THE BLOOD and RESTORES THE HEALTH.

SEVENTY-ONE YEARS OF AGE.

EAST MARSHFIELD, Aug. 22, 1870.

MR. STEVENS—Dear Sir: I am seventy-one years of age; have suffered many years with Kidney Complaint, weakness in my back and stomach. I was induced by friends to try your VEGETINE, and I think it the best medicine for weakness of the Kidneys I ever used. I have tried many remedies for this complaint, and never found so much relief as from the VEGETINE. It strengthens and invigorates the whole system. Many of my acquaintances have taken it, and I believe it to be good for all the complaints for which it is recommended.
Yours truly, JOSIAH H. SHERMAN.

A Source of Great Anxiety.

My daughter has been receiving great benefit from the use of VEGETINE. Her declining health was a source of great anxiety to all of her friends. A few bottles of the VEGETINE restored her health, strength and appetite. N. H. TILDEN,

SOUTH BOSTON, Feb. 7, 1870.

MR. STEVENS—Dear Sir: I have taken several bottles of your VEGETINE, and am convinced it is a valuable remedy for Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaint, and general debility of the system. I can heartily recommend it to all suffering from the above complaints. Yours respectfully,
MRS. MUNROE PARKER, 386 Athens street.

WHAT IS NEEDED.

BOSTON, Feb. 13, 1871.

MR. H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir: About one year since I found myself in a feeble condition from general debility. VEGETINE was strongly recommended to me by a friend who had been much benefited by its use. I procured the article and, after using several bottles, was restored to health, and discontinued its use. I feel quite confident that there is no medicine superior to it for those complaints for which it is especially prepared, and would cheerfully recommend it to those who feel that they need something to restore them to perfect health.
Respectfully yours,
U. L. PETTINGILL,
Firm of S. M. Pettengill & Co., 10 State St., Boston. F19w4

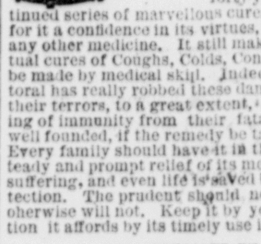
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

or Diseases of the Throat and Lungs such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.



The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues.—Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equaled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the Cherry Pectoral has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season.—Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and otherwise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Prospectus for 1874--7th Year.

The Aldine,

An Illustrated Monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the Handsomest Periodical in the World. A Representative and Champion of American Taste.

Not for Sale at Book or News Stores.

THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature, and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there are the chromos, besides!

ART DEPARTMENT, 1873.

The illustrations of THE ALDINE have won a world-wide reputation, and in the art centres of Europe it is an admitted fact that its wood cuts are examples of the highest perfection ever attained. The common prejudice in favor of "steel plates" is rapidly yielding to a more educated and discriminating taste which recognizes the advantages of superior artistic quality with greater facility of production. The wood-cuts of THE ALDINE possess all the delicacy and elaborate finish of the most costly steel plate, while they afford a better rendering of the artist's original.

To fully realize the wonderful work which THE ALDINE is doing for the cause of art culture in America, it is only necessary to consider the cost to the people of any other decent representations of the productions of great painters.

In addition to designs by the members of the National Academy, and other noted American artists, THE ALDINE will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success and greatest general interest. Thus the subscriber to THE ALDINE will, at a trifling cost, enjoy in his own home the pleasures and refining influences of true art.

The quarterly tinted plates for 1874 will be by Thos. Moran and J. D. Woodward.

The Christmas issue for 1874 will contain special designs appropriate to the season, by our best artists, and will surpass in attractions any of its predecessors.

PREMIUM FOR 1874.

Every subscriber to THE ALDINE for the year 1874 will receive a pair of chromos. The original pictures were painted in oil for the publishers of THE ALDINE, by Thomas Moran, whose great Colorado picture was purchased by Congress for ten thousand dollars. The subjects were chosen to represent "The East" and "The West." One is a view in The White Mountains, New Hampshire; the other gives The Cliffs of Green River, Wyoming Territory. The difference in the nature of the scenes themselves is a pleasing contrast, and affords a good display of the artist's scope and coloring. The chromos are each worked from thirty distinct plates, and are in size (12x16) and appearance exact fac-similes of the originals. The presentation of a worthy example of America's greatest landscape painter to the subscribers of THE ALDINE was a bold but peculiarly happy idea, and its successful realization is attested by the following testimonial, over the signature of Mr. Moran himself:

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 20th, 1873.

MESSRS. JAMES SUTTON & CO.

Gentlemen:—I am delighted with the proof in color of your chromos. They are wonderfully successful representations by mechanical process of the original paintings.

Very respectfully,
(Signed.) THOS. MORAN.

These chromos are in every sense American. They are by an original American process, with material of American manufacture, from designs of American scenery by an American painter, and presented to subscribers to the first successful American Art Journal. If no better because of all this, they will certainly possess an interest no foreign production can inspire, and neither are they any the worse if by reason of peculiar facilities of production they cost the publishers only a trifle, while equal in every respect to other chromos that are sold singly for double the subscription price of THE ALDINE. Persons of taste will prize these pictures for themselves—not for the price they did or did not cost, and will appreciate the enterprise that renders their distribution possible.

If any subscriber should indicate a preference for a figure subject, the publishers will send "Thoughts of Home," a new and beautiful chromo 14x20 inches, representing a little Italian exile whose speaking eyes betray the longings of his heart.

For 50 cents extra, the chromos will be sent, mounted, varnished, and prepaid by mail.

THE ALDINE will hereafter, be obtained only be subscription. There will be no reduced or club rate; cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local canvasser, without responsibility to the publishers, except in cases where the certificate is given, bearing the fac-simile signature of JAMES SUTTON & CO.

Any person wishing to act permanently as local canvasser will receive full and prompt information by applying to

The Museum of Art.

The site upon which the Museum of Art is to be erected is bounded by Eightieth and Eighty-fourth streets, and by the Fifth avenue and Central Park.

The appropriation which was made by the Legislature for the construction of the building amounts, as in the case of the Museum of Natural History, to $500,000. For this sum no building worthy of the City and of the object could be constructed, and it was resolved by the Park Commissioners and the officers of the Art Museum that the building to be now erected be so constructed that it would, as in the case of the Museum of Natural History, be complete in itself for the present, but at some future day could be formed into one part or section of a more extensive and commodious edifice. Messrs. Vaux and Mould, the architects of the department, were instructed accordingly, and are just now completing plans for the proposed museum. The grand building, when finished, will be in the form of a parallelogram, and will inclose six garden courts. In it will be contained halls and saloons for the exhibition of paintings, statuary, works of engineering, mechanical drawings, bronzes, pottery, and works of art generally. The main building will be 956 feet long, with ten wings extending to a length of 936 feet. At the southern end of the principal structure a hall for panoramas will be built. This will be 250 feet long. The style of architecture will be Venetian Gothic. The museum will have a height of 70 feet to cornice, and from that to the ridge of the Mansard roof will be 20 feet higher. Seventeen towers and domes will decorate the roof and cluster around one grand dome, which is to rise above the main or central hall. The material to be used in the construction of the building will be Philadelphia brick and light gray and brown granite. It is estimated that the entire cost of construction will be about $10,000,000.

The section now to be built by authorization of and with the $500,000 appropriated by the Legislature of 1871, will be only one-twentieth part of the whole structure, as shown by the plans of the architect. It will form about the middle part of the entire building, and will be 233 feet long by 99 feet wide. The general height will be, from the ground line to the cornice, 53 feet, and from thence to the ridge of the roof, about 30 feet more. The building will contain one large hall for the general exhibition of objects of art. This will occupy the principal or first floor, and will extend entirely to the roof, thus taking in two stories more. It will be 109 feet long and 95 feet wide. Until the completion of the more extensive structure contemplated, this will be used as the grand saloon of exhibition. From engaged and highly-decorated columns will spring iron ribs and arches which will support the roof, and be ornamented in various ways. Light will be admitted by an ingenious skylight arrangement and by plate-glass side windows. The ceiling, in that part not taken up by the skylight, will be decorated with fresco drawings by celebrated artists. The end walls are to be treated in the same way. The cornice is to be elaborately ornamented, with artistically arranged tiles and polished marble blocks. The floor will be of different colored marbles in novel patterns. Extending from and at either end of this principal saloon, will be two smaller exhibition halls and corridors for the reception of sculpture and large pieces of pottery and china. Above the entrance halls will be the grand saloons for the exhibition of paintings and water color drawings. These will be lighted by patent skylights from above, and will be fitted up with every known appliance for the proper display of pictures. The whole range of walls can be devoted to this purpose, as no side windows will be introduced.

The ground or entrance floor will be occupied at one end by reception and dressing-rooms, and at the other by offices and parlors for the use of the Directors and other officers of the museum. All these apartments will be handsomely fitted up and furnished. Rooms will also be provided on this floor for artists and art students. The basement will be occupied by necessary machinery, furnaces and coal vaults. Four stone staircases, carved and ornamented, will lead from the ground to the highest story. Two elevators will also be provided for the accommodation of visitors, and for the carrying of heavy pictures and statuary.

The exterior of the building will present a very simple but imposing appearance. From the ground to the principal story light-colored granite will be used. Above this Philadelphia and Baltimore brick will be employed. The dressings at the window arches and cornices are to be of light gray and Quincy granite. Above each window, and just below the granite arch, a block of highly polished and carved red marble will be placed. The frieze cornice will be decorated with incaustic tiles and polished granite, and upon this is to be placed the Mansard roof of slate squares, variously colored and arranged. The entire structure is to be surmounted with a crested ridge of bronze. The architects are doing everything in their power to make the building as fire-proof as possible. Wood will only be used when absolutely necessary, and when it is employed it will be so bedded in iron or stone as to make a conflagration very improbable. The arrangements which are being made for heating and ventilation are very perfect. The furnace flues will be fire-brick and the coil pipes of iron. These will be placed, as in the Museum of Natural History, in front of a perforated iron windowsill, thus securing heat and perfect ventilation at the same time. When completed, the valuable collection of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, including the De Cesnola collection, will be placed in the building.

Borax for Colds.

A writer in The Medical Record cites a number of cases in which borax has proved a most effective remedy in certain forms of colds. He states that in sudden hoarseness or loss of voice in public speakers or singers, from colds, relief for an hour or so, as by magic, may be often obtained by slowly dissolving, and partially swallowing, a lump of borax, the size of a garden pea, or about three or four grains, held in the mouth for ten minutes before speaking or singing. This produces a profuse secretion of saliva, or "watering" of the mouth and throat, probably restoring the voice or tone to the dried vocal cords, just as wetting brings back the missing notes to a flute when it is too dry.

—A woman is employed as messenger at a colliery in Wales, and as she begins her duty early each morning, she meets great numbers of colliers going to their work. Some of them consider it a bad omen to meet a woman first thing in the morning, and, not having succeeded in deterring her from her work by other means, they waited upon the manager and declared that they would remain at home unless the woman was dismissed. Whether their superstitious whim was gratified is not stated.

VEGETINE.

PURIFIES THE BLOOD and RESTORES THE HEALTH.

SEVENTY-ONE YEARS OF AGE.

EAST MARSHFIELD, Aug. 22, 1870.

MR. STEVENS—Dear Sir: I am seventy-one years of age; have suffered many years with Kidney Complaint, weakness in my back and stomach. I was induced by friends to try your VEGETINE, and I think it the best medicine for weakness of the Kidneys I ever used. I have tried many remedies for this complaint, and never found so much relief as from the VEGETINE. It strengthens and invigorates the whole system. Many of my acquaintances have taken it, and I believe it to be good for all the complaints for which it is recommended.
Yours truly, JOSIAH H. SHERMAN.

A Source of Great Anxiety.

My daughter has been receiving great benefit from the use of VEGETINE. Her declining health was a source of great anxiety to all of her friends. A few bottles of the VEGETINE restored her health, strength and appetite. N. H. TILDEN,

MR. STEVENS—Dear Sir: I have taken several bottles of your VEGETINE, and am convinced it is a valuable remedy for Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaint, and general debility of the system. I can heartily recommend it to all suffering from the above complaints. Yours respectfully,
MRS. MUNROE PARKER, 386 Athens street.

WHAT IS NEEDED.

BOSTON, Feb. 13, 1871.

MR. H. R. STEVENS—Dear Sir: About one year since I found myself in a feeble condition from general debility. VEGETINE was strongly recommended to me by a friend who had been much benefited by its use. I procured the article and, after using several bottles, was restored to health, and discontinued its use. I feel quite confident that there is no medicine superior to it for those complaints for which it is especially prepared, and would cheerfully recommend it to those who feel that they need something to restore them to perfect health.
Respectfully yours,

WHEREAS, DEFAULT HAS been made in the payment of the money secured by a mortgage dated the 1st day of April, 1870, executed by John D. Deyo, widower, of the Town of Shawangunk, in the County of Ulster and State of New York, to Jane Smith, then the wife of Gardinier Smith, of the Town of Hurley, in the County and State aforesaid, to secure the payment of thirty-seven hundred dollars with interest thereon from the date thereof on the first day of April, 1872, and which mortgage was recorded in the Clerk's office of said County of Ulster in Book No. 110 of mortgages, on page 285, &c., on the 21st day of March, 1872, at 2½ o'clock P. M.

And whereas the said Jane Smith died intestate on the 11th day of January, 1874, leaving Cornelius C. Smith, John F. Smith, Richard C. Smith, Mary Dennis and Jeannette Van Wagenen, all above twenty-one years of age, as her only children and heirs-at-law, her surviving.

And whereas the said Cornelius C. Smith, John F. Smith, Richard C. Smith, Mary Dennis and Jeannette Van Wagenen, duly assigned and transferred all their right, title and interest in and to the said mortgage, and the bond accompanying the same, to their father, Gardinier Smith, by assignment dated the 31st day of January, 1874, duly recorded in the said Ulster County Clerk's office.

And whereas the amount claimed to be due upon said mortgage at the time of the first publication of this notice is the sum of three thousand nine hundred and ninety-one dollars and sixteen cents, to-wit: $3,700 of principal and $291.16 of interest, and which is the whole amount claimed to be unpaid on said mortgage.

The premises are described in the mortgage as follows: All that certain lot, piece or parcel of land situate in the Town of Shawangunk aforesaid, and is known and distinguished as being the same farm now owned and occupied by John D. Deyo, and is described in three lots or parcels of land as follows, namely: Beginning with the lot the said John D. Deyo purchased from Willet Lenderman and his wife Sarah, and at a corner on the west side of the highway leading to Kingston, then as the needle pointed in 1820 north fifty degrees twenty minutes, west twenty-eight chains fourteen links to a corner of a lot of land sold to Joseph Eckert, then along the same south forty-two and three-quarter degrees west four chains seventy-one links, then north forty-five degrees forty-five minutes west seven chains to the center of a highway leading to Rutsonville; the two last courses are as the needle now points; then as it pointed in 1820 south twenty-nine degrees and forty-five minutes west seven chains and fifty links to a lot bought by Samuel Aldrich and others, then south fifty degrees twenty minutes east twenty-nine chains thirty links to a stone set by the westerly side of the aforesaid highway, then along the same to the beginning, containing thirty-six acres of land.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

VOLUME FOR 1874.

THE CULTIVATOR AND COUNTRY GENTLEMEN, for the past forty years, has ranked, both in this country and abroad, as the Standard Journal of American Agriculture. The Editors and Proprietors, in addition to their own personal labors, are regularly assisted by a very large number of Special Correspondents and Regular Contributors, among whom are included many Leading Agriculturists, in all parts of the country, east and west—and by over Five Hundred Occasional and Voluntary Writers, directly in the ranks of the best Farmers and Horticulturists of nearly every state in the Union. With the co-operation of so large a corps of practical men, this journal is intended to possess exceptional value as the chosen Medium of Intercommunication among all classes interested in the Products and Fertility of the land—those who cultivate and those who consume—the buyer and shipper, as well as the first owner of the crop—breeders of improved animals and their customers—manufacturers of improved machinery and those who purchase and employ it—nurserymen and fruit raisers—and, especially, to supply fuller and better data as to the progress, prospects and returns of each successive season, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and when to Sell.

TERMS—THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly, on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance:—One copy, one year, $2.50; Four copies, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the club; Ten copies, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the club.

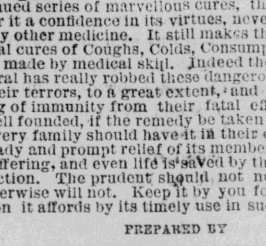
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.



The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues.—Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equaled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the Cherry Pectoral has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season.—Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and otherwise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Prospectus for 1874--7th Year.

The Aldine,

An Illustrated Monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the Handsomest Periodical in the World. A Representative and Champion of American Taste.

Not for Sale at Book or News Stores.

THE ALDINE, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature, and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there are the chromos, besides!

ART DEPARTMENT, 1873.

The illustrations of THE ALDINE have won a world-wide reputation, and in the art centres of Europe it is an admitted fact that its wood cuts are examples of the highest perfection ever attained. The common prejudice in favor of "steel plates" is rapidly yielding to a more educated and discriminating taste which recognizes the advantages of superior artistic quality with greater facility of production. The wood-cuts of THE ALDINE possess all the delicacy and elaborate finish of the most costly steel plate, while they afford a better rendering of the artist's original.

To fully realize the wonderful work which THE ALDINE is doing for the cause of art culture in America, it is only necessary to consider the cost to the people of any other decent representations of the productions of great painters.

In addition to designs by the members of the National Academy, and other noted American artists, THE ALDINE will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success and greatest general interest. Thus the subscriber to THE ALDINE will, at a trifling cost, enjoy in his own home the pleasures and refining influences of true art.

The quarterly tinted plates for 1874 will be by Thos. Moran and J. D. Woodward.

The Christmas issue for 1874 will contain special designs appropriate to the season, by our best artists, and will surpass in attractions any of its predecessors.

PREMIUM FOR 1874.

Every subscriber to THE ALDINE for the year 1874 will receive a pair of chromos. The original pictures were painted in oil for the publishers of THE ALDINE, by Thomas Moran, whose great Colorado picture was purchased by Congress for ten thousand dollars. The subjects were chosen to represent "The East" and "The West." One is a view in The White Mountains, New Hampshire; the other gives The Cliffs of Green River, Wyoming Territory. The difference in the nature of the scenes themselves is a pleasing contrast, and affords a good display of the artist's scope and coloring. The chromos are each worked from thirty distinct plates, and are in size (12x16) and appearance exact fac-similes of the originals. The presentation of a worthy example of America's greatest landscape painter to the subscribers of THE ALDINE was a bold but peculiarly happy idea, and its successful realization is attested by the following testimonial, over the signature of Mr. Moran himself:

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 20th, 1873.

MESSRS. JAMES SUTTON & CO.

Gentlemen:—I am delighted with the proof in color of your chromos. They are wonderfully successful representations by mechanical process of the original paintings.
Very respectfully,
(Signed.) THOS. MORAN.

These chromos are in every sense American. They are by an original American process, with material of American manufacture, from designs of American scenery by an American painter, and presented to subscribers to the first successful American Art Journal. If no better because of all this, they will certainly possess an interest no foreign production can inspire, and neither are they any the worse if by reason of peculiar facilities of production they cost the publishers only a trifle, while equal in every respect to other chromos that are sold singly for double the subscription price of THE ALDINE. Persons of taste will prize these pictures for themselves—not for the price they did or did not cost, and will appreciate the enterprise that renders their distribution possible.

If any subscriber should indicate a preference for a figure subject, the publishers will send "Thoughts of Home," a new and beautiful chromo 14x20 inches, representing a little Italian exile whose speaking eyes betray the longings of his heart.

For 50 cents extra, the chromos will be sent, mounted, varnished, and prepaid by mail.

THE ALDINE will hereafter, be obtained only be subscription. There will be no reduced or club rate; cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local canvasser, without responsibility to the publishers, except in cases where the certificate is given, bearing the fac-simile signature of JAMES SUTTON & CO.

Any person wishing to act permanently as local canvasser will receive full and prompt information by applying to

Kingston, Friday Morning, March 6.

A Sun item says "a duck killed a rooster in a fight for $50 in Chester, Pa." Good for the duck; but who got the money?

What would correspondents, orators and editors do without the "ostrich, Mr. Chairman, which when pursued hides its head in the sand," etc? As Whitelaw Reid said of the author of "Alton Locke," the ostrich "builded wiser than he knew." Or burrowed, should we say?

The Woodhull is on trial at last; she sits placidly before the court with her lawyers on the one hand and Tennessee on the other. Whichever way the libel suit comes out Victoria will remain a woman too far ahead of her age—what is her age?—to be appreciated by it. The Duke of Argyle, was it? said that "a woman had no business on the platform except to be hanged." Possibly; anyhow the sex is not strong enough to withstand the demoralizing influences of Wall street.

The late terrible calamity on the Great Western Railroad in which a number of passengers were burned to death and otherwise badly injured by the fall of a kerosene lamp in the rear car of a train ought at least to teach one practical thing; the firm fixing of such dangerous lamps in their places. But who ever heard of a railroad company taking notice of such little unpleasantnesses as the consumption of a dozen men and women more or less? Like the ghost of Marley, corporations have "no bowels."

Smith (Henry) having been gathered to his fathers, there is a fine opening made for Morrissey. Nothing could be better. If he does not "know a bank whereon the wild thyme grows," he knows many banks whereat the wild tiger doth disport himself. As Police Commissioner he would start with a fullness of information. Besides, his immediate appointment and possible removal from Saratoga might enspirit the Aggies to row in the regatta next summer. Smith dies, the colleges harmonize! Wonderful chain of events. Morrissey ain't in yet, though.

If an enthusiastic witness from there is to be credited, Poughkeepsie is to be congratulated on having heard a musical composition which no human ears ever heard before, namely the Eleventh Symphony of Beethoven. The witness vowed that Mr. Thomas would not have produced it even in that place only he (Mr. Thomas) knew that Poughkeepsie had an appreciation of high art in music. Will anybody down among our neighbors who listened to it, besides the witness, tell us if they enjoyed it as much as he did?

We should think so; indeed they were driven to do that thing. For inasmuch as the Prohibitory law has been a failure in Massachusetts, the Total Abstinence Society has no other resort. So they got together and "resolved" that they wished the women well in their movement. But what a lot of old idiots those men must be not to see that if the women drive rum out of the state they will vote, the next thing, and send those baldheaded reformers to Coventry! And yet the fools go on and talk about "the opinion of this Board!" As though a cracked board could hold an opinion!

We had occasion to say a sharp word or two last summer about Kate Field as a newspaper correspondent. We then expressed the opinion that she was rather prononce and loud for a lady, and a shade too sharp for the average reader. Since we have read her last letter to the Graphic cauterizing and arraigning Canon Kingsley for snobbishness and lickspittleism, we are inclined to forgive something to the spirit of genuine pluckiness and truth which sometimes shines resplendently forth in her. Mr. Macsycophant's recipe for popularity is undoubtedly the Canon's judge of success: "Like a true poleteecian, I must pretend most sincerely where I intend most deceit."

The newspaper prophets are taking time neatly by the forelock and warning us against the certain coming of the cholera this spring. We shouldn't wonder if it did come; we are in very bad shape in this country, very; nothing would be too bad for us. We are unworthy of the smallest providential favors, and if we get to dying off in two or three months from now, like shelled corn tumbling through a hopper, we shall think nothing strange of it. If the cholera doesn't come for our dirty streets it will drop down on us in the form of a judgment for our having Butler and Simmons, Jayne and Sanborn and so on. It's no use to wash up or sweep out, tain't the gutters nor the sewers—it's our national naughtiness that's going to do the business for us.

It ought to be done—the appointment of the commission to take care of our forests recommended by the Science Association which met at Portland last summer. With a prodigality nothing less than wicked the axe has been and is now being lifted up upon the thick trees all over the wooded parts of our land. In the absence of authority to check this waste it has gone on and still goes on unrebuked, to the damage of us all. What with unnecessary chopping and fires resulting from carelessness, if nothing is done to prevent it, the grand growth of trees will soon make their absence felt, as a direct loss of national riches. We are glad to see that the President has found time to prepare and send to Congress a message on this subject; and although nothing more comes of it immediately than the enforcement of existing laws, the saving will more than justify the trouble and expense incident to such a commission.

Dr. Porteous has been preaching in the wrong places to the wrong people, and so Bishops Potter and Littlejohn have notified him that he cannot hereafter be permitted to preach in the right places to the right people. Which makes it bad all around. We don't pretend to understand the ins and outs of so abstruse a question as "What is the true church?" Heavy men, loaded with Latin and polished with Greek, have been tugging and sweating at it for hundreds of years, and do not appear to have satisfied everybody yet. The Bishops have an undeniable right to prohibit Dr. Porteous from preaching in the "meeting-houses" of so notorious heretics and unregulated blowers and bruisers as Beecher, Duryea, Buddington and Storrs; for these men are known to be liars and thieves and careless respecters of common folks. We grieve to say that they are incorrigible in their ways, so that more than likely neither Bishop Potter nor Bishop Littlejohn could make them over into what they ought to be. And if Dr. Porteous is foolish enough to herd with them, what in the world can the Bishops do except what they have done: tell him to lie down in the bed he has made? Well, well! law is law and rules are rules, but—"Oh, the pity o' it, the pity o' it!"

The science of medicine loses a representative whom it can ill afford to spare in Dr. Forbes Winslow of London. His contributions to the literature of disease in a general way were various and important; but in the department of mental and cerebral pathology his natural bent of thought found a field more to his taste, and in that his finest successes were achieved. Precisely there, too, medical science has been least informed and its practice, therefore, most seriously astray. The visible effects and symptoms of disease could always be determined and a mode of treatment guessed at. But the dim border-land between mind and matter—the foggy coast where the ocean of mental and spiritual forces comes upon fleshly soundings, was a terra incognita to the dealers in sumptuary remedial agencies. Here Dr. Winslow instituted his investigations and elicited his facts. His best known work, "Obscure Diseases of the Brain," is the accepted text-book upon the subject of which it treats and has opened to the student and practitioner a mine of information in respect to that singular anomaly—the nervous system. The world of sufferers present and to come is to be congratulated that Dr. Winslow did so much good and abiding work before his lamentable death.

Senator Carpenter has just refreshed his brethren with another little chapter of that Louisiana story. The Senator is wonderfully courageous or miraculously obtuse in not modifying its tone to suit the atmosphere of a distinct and recent administration triumph. If "the Lord delivered Daniel, why can't he deliver us?" sang our colored friends the other evening. To be sure; why not? But then, you know, in the case of the mystified Forbes and his Beacon street constituency, the Lord didn't deliver Daniel. On the contrary that good man got awfully clawed and chewed up down there at Washington in the den at "the other end of the avenue." That's why we think Carpenter would show much discretion if he would only lay his hand caressingly upon the lion's mane. Then, no doubt, the pacified beast, like Bottom in the play, would "roar you gently as a sucking dove." Perhaps Mr. Carpenter wants no favors and wears a thick coat of mail under his other clothes. In such case he is safe. Isn't it curious though that after so many and so cogent speeches about it, Congress is altogether unable to find out what sort of government exists in Louisiana, or whether there is any at all or not? Is it not nearly time some practical step was taken to abate that stale scandal down South?

Another Victory for the People.

The news from Denning was a long while coming, but it is all the better now it's here. The grand little town of Denning, bigger for her inches than any in the county, returns gallant Captain Daniel Gillette by twenty-two majority. Three cheers for the Captain and the Town of Denning.

The Hog—In Articulo Mortis.

Mr. Bergh is probably the sweetest boon sent by a kind Providence to smooth the devious paths of life for quadrupedalian nature. The car and stage horses recognize him by a joyous neigh, and the captured shad wiggling his tail for the last time in the market rolls toward Mr. Bergh the final glimmer of his glazing eye in thanks for the well-meant efforts put forth by the great piscatorial preserver to prevent a fatal result to the scaly business of his taking off. Now the hardhearted hog slaughterers are to take a lesson in loving their kind. Bergh has proceeded against the proprietors of certain establishments of that sort for the cruelty they show to our porcine brotherhood. To be plain and concise, he has notified the butchers not to hang up a hog by the heels preliminary to cutting its gentle throat. The point is that the hog is known to be greatly inconvenienced and flustered by such an inartistic handling of his person. The mere right to kill Mr. Bergh reluctantly concedes, inasmuch as our hams and sausages must be more or less defunct for use. Further he concedes nothing; insisting on the contrary that the tenderest treatment in connection with all the details of his immolation upon the altar of human rapacity is due to the patient, sagacious and sensitive porker. The law—i. e., Mr. Bergh's law—we believe requires the administration of a preparatory tap on the head by the officiating butcher to render the animal oblivious to the bloody coup de grace which is to follow; and this, it is claimed, is generally omitted. A still more horrifying act of cruelty is the immersion into boiling hot water of the helpless hog before it is certain he is absolutely dead. We can specify nothing further. Enough has been said to

"Stir up humanity into a canter
To go and relieve these sad cases instanter."

All the more because ex-Mayor Oakey Hall, who is counsel for the pigs, states that he "has had experience" of hogs being strung up by the heels in the horrible fashion described, and knows how cruel and revolting it is. Of course this "experience" of Hall's must have occurred to him in some earlier stage of his historical existence, but the accuracy of his recollection of the event is not to be profanely questioned. We feel faint and sick with the subject and can only offer a suggestion or two. Let there be a regularly appointed corps of doctors to attend all slaughterings to render the hogs insensible by means of chloroform before they are hit on the head according to law. Then let the blow be delivered upon the creature's nose, where it will be most effectual from the fact that the said organ is so seldom blown. Afterwards let him be inverted and bled—the doctor standing near and keeping count of the pulse, as is the custom at all first-class executions. Then, after the body has been packed in ice for three days to ensure the extinction of life and sensibility, may come the boiling-hot water part of the delicate process. While we are aware that a lack of intimate acquaintance with the nature of the beast may have betrayed us into seeming harshness in our recommendations, we feel confident that the fuller knowledge and more lively sympathies of Messrs. Bergh and Hall will not allow their proteges to suffer on that account.

CURRENT TOPICS.

—The gubernatorial campaign in Massachusetts is commencing to blaze already. Butler clubs are already being formed.

—We feel easier now. The Boston Journal gravely assumes us the accession of Disraeli will not lead to war with this country.

—Hank Smith was such an accommodating man that if he had known how much trouble his decease would have made he probably wouldn't have died.

—It is a wonderful coincident that just as The Claimant in England has received his sentence The Claimant in Massachusetts gets his man in the Collectorship.

—The Utica Observer serves notice on Congressmen Dewitt and Perry to "prepare to git" for voting for the resurrection of the franking abuse.

—The result of the Temperance campaign in Ohio is very cheering. In 55 towns 836 drinking-places have been closed, and 15,000 persons have signed the pledge.

—The Worcester Spy and Gazette, the Republican papers of that city, want the party to throw Grant overboard on account of the Simmons idiocy.

—There is a rumor that the New York Times has been "fixed to go in for Blaine for '76." What will Conkling do now, with the leading Republican organ of his own state against him?

—The Rochester Democrat says Sam. Bowles is negotiating for the Boston Globe. He would make a good and paying paper, for Samuel has a remarkable instinct of journalism developed in a remarkable degree.

—Mr. Clapp, the government printer, seems to be clapping it on pretty heavily. It appears he has been charging Mr. Creswell from fifty to sixteen hundred per cent. more than other establishments would.

—Dr. Lewis A. Sayre, professor of orthopœdic surgery in Bellevue hospital, New York, examined the bodies of the Siamese twins in Philadelphia on Saturday, and, according to the Press of that city, he was convinced that they might have been separated with safety during life by constricting portions of the band with a silver wire until the flesh gradually was cut through and sloughed off. This process would have avoided the shock to the system, and danger of peritonitis, which was so much to be dreaded after a sudden operation with the knife.

A Riot in Poland.

LONDON, March 5.—The correspondent of the Daily News at St. Petersburg writes under date of the 28th ult. that serious rioting has occurred in Eastern Poland in consequence of the closing of churches by order of the government. At one place the disorder was so great that the military was called out and fired on the rioters, killing and wounding seventy persons.

SOUTH AMERICA.

Another War in Prospect.

LISBON, March 5.—The Brazilian mail steamer from Rio Janeiro February 8th has arrived. The probability of war with the Argentine States on account of the new insurrection in Paraguay was increasing and there was a general decline of values in consequence. Troops and vessels were going forward to Paraguay. At Buenos Ayres the elections were in progress and attended with intense excitement. Troops were being dispatched to various points on the frontier and war with Brazil was looked upon as liable to break out at any moment.—Munitions were arriving from the United States.

The cholera continued and the deaths from the disease averaged seven daily.

SPAIN.

What Carlos Proposes.

LONDON, March 5.—A special to the Times from Bayonne contains the following intelligence, obtained from Carlist sources: Don Carlos has announced that it is not his intention to impose a contribution upon the population of Bilboa when that place is taken. On his entrance into the city he will proceed to the cathedral and be crowned King of Spain. He will swear to support the liberties of the people and will constitutes a government with General Elio as President of the Council. An appeal will be made to foreign powers to recognize the belligerency of the Carlists. He will declare Spaniards exempt from allegiance to any other government than his own. He will draw $5,000,000 as the first installment of the loan previously contracted.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The New Parliament.

LONDON, March 5.—The new Parliament assembled to-day. The opening proceedings in the chamber of Peers were formal and uninteresting. In the House of Commons Henry Chaplin, Conservative, proposed and Lord Cavendish seconded the motion that Right Hon. Henry Bouverie Brand, Speaker of the last House, be declared Speaker of the present House. After eulogistic speeches the motion was unanimously carried. Hon. Percy Herbert congratulated the Speaker in behalf of the absent members and Mr. Gladstone tendered him the compliments of the opposition. The swearing of members then began. Gladstone was most warmly received by the Liberal members when he entered the hall and took his seat on the front opposition bench.

JEAN LUIE COMMITTED.

Jean Luie, the claimant's witness in the Tichborne case, was to-day fully committed for trial on the charge of perjury. Large crowds filled and surrounded the court room in expectation of seeing the claimant himself on this occasion, but the latter was not allowed to appear in court. Andrew Boyle, the old negro servant of the Tichborne family and one of the strongest witnesses for the claimant, has become hopelessly ill since the verdict was rendered against Orton.

WOLSELEY'S VICTORY CONFIRMED.

LONDON, March 5.—Dispatches have at last arrived from the Gold Coast fully confirming previous reports of the victory and dispelling the fears which were entertained for the safety of the expedition. The Ashantee King finally surrendered himself into the hands of the British troops and was a prisoner at General Wolseley's headquarters.

NO GUNPOWDER PLOT.

LONDON, March 5.—The search of the Parliament building which has been customary since the discovery of the Guy Fawkes plot was made this morning before the assembling of the Lords and Commons.

MOIETY INIQUITIES.

Wm. E. Dodge's Statement—Special Agent Jayne Dissected.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Wm. E. Dodge, of the firm of Phelps, Dodge & Co., made a statement before the Committee on Ways and Means to-day. After making an explanation of their case similar to that already published as to the amount paid as compromise and the conduct of Jayne towards the firm, Dodge said Jayne had eminent counsel. A member of the House of Representatives (Secretary Boutwell) had treated them fairly and honorably and desired them to take the case into the courts. Mr. Dodge remarked that General Butler said he had a single letter from Phelps, Dodge & Co. which was sufficient to convict them in any United States court. The firm learning what it was laughed. When the firm for the first time imported tin for cheese vats and instead of putting it in boxes it was put in bundles with strips of galvanized iron round them the appraiser called their attention to the fact that the tin should have been in boxes. To avoid future trouble they wrote to their friends abroad to thereafter put the tin in boxes with marks of their weight and manufacture. The reply came that they would endeavor to follow instructions, but the manufacturers added, "If in any respect we shall differ let us know and we will fix it." Gen. Butler now had it. "We will on this," he said, "convict Phelps, Dodge & Co. in any court in the United States." The members of our firm, said Dodge, found themselves dogged by spies in any steps they took. They could not have a private meeting of the firm at night but what it was known in that dark hole at the Custom House. There was no lawyer in their office but what it was known. One of his partners, as January came round, opened his desk and culling out such letters as he wished to retain burned the rest. They received a letter from their attorney informing them that Mr. Jayne said that Phelps, Dodge & Co. were burning up their papers and he would have them all in Ludlow street jail that night. How did Mr. Jayne know? Because he had under pay a man in their store, the second bookkeeper. They traced the fellow and turned him out of their store. He went where he was now employed. He was a clerk in the post office. A place was obtained for him by the agent of the United States.

At the conclusion of Dodge's statement the committee adjourned.

SPECIAL ORDER.

In Committee of the Whole, Mr. TOBEY in the chair, the bill altering the map and plan of the city of New York, and for the improvement of certain streets and public places therein, was considered.

After long discussion progress was reported on the bill.

Adjourned until eleven A. M. to-morrow.

ASSEMBLY.

GENERAL ORDERS—THE MIDLAND RAILROAD BILL.

Mr. LINCOLN in the chair:

Repealing act exempting the real and personal property of the Midland Railroad Company from taxation.

Mr. ALBERGER moved to strike out the second section.

Mr. WEED said he would not oppose the bill if the people along the line of the road wanted it, but he thought its passage would do harm, and there was serious doubt concerning its constitutionality. Besides, it will greatly embarrass the collection of the state tax and create a deficiency which would have to be provided for.

Mr. BEEBE defended the bill in the interests of his constituents, now burdened to an almost unbearable degree in the extent to which they are bonded for this and other roads. He went into the merits of the proposition at great length, urging that the bill was a measure of justice to the people of a large portion of the state and one which the Legislature could not refuse to pass.

Mr. WEED again criticised the bill, urging that the road is embarrassed enough at the present time without adding this burden.

Mr. BEEBE denied that this would be the effect of the bill. If the exemption upon this property is removed, so much more property would be added to the valuation, and there can be no deficiency.

Mr. WEED reiterated his opinion that such would be the effect of the bill, and objected to it for that reason.

Mr. ALVORD granted that Mr. Weed was right in a certain sense, but the state tax collected under the bill could be donated to the towns either in the Supply bill or in the General Appropriation bill, and thus it would come under the property to be covered by the state tax.

Mr. BEEBE said it was the first management of the road which is burdened. The old debt is to be wiped out, and the road will now come into the possession of the first mortgage bondholders, who will get property worth $30,000,000 for less than $6,000,000. The new proprietors of the road come into power clear of debt, and it is now a measure of justice to the people of the towns to pass this law. The result he had spoken of was inevitable, as the holders of the first mortgage securities had already taken the preliminary proceedings for foreclosures.

Mr. BEECHER said his county, which was as heavily bonded as any other, did not ask that at the present time any further tax should be imposed upon the road. He could not see his way clear to giving his support to the bill, as he did not believe in "killing the goose which lays the golden egg."

Mr. SLOAN said the city of Oswego had been assessed for the road to the same extent as the towns, and it should therefore enjoy any benefit derivable from the bill. He moved to amend the bill accordingly. Agreed to.

Mr. ALBERGER withdrew his motion.

The bill was then progressed.

Amending the general manufacturing and mining act. Third reading.

EVENING SESSION.

The House reassembled at 7:30 and the following bills were considered in Committee of the Whole and ordered to a third reading unless otherwise stated:

To amend the act relative to the disposition of lands of which parties died seized.

To prevent the seizing and detaining of canal boats under mortgage.

Regulating appeals from taxation by towns and cities and vesting power to hear them in the State Assessors instead of the Comptroller.

Providing for the appraisal and payment of canal damages to various salt companies in Onondaga county.

Adjourned.

NEW YORK, March 5.—At a meeting of the Board of Aldermen this afternoon the Mayor sent in the nomination of Tax Commissioner George H. Andrews as Police Commissioner in place of the late Henry Smith.

WOODHULL & CO. IN THE TOMBS.

In the case of Woodhull, Claflin and Blood, on trial for libel in the Court of General Sessions to-day, application for a reduction of bail was refused and the prisoners taken to the Tombs.

PHELPS, DODGE & CO. VINDICATED.

The special committee of the Chamber of Commerce telegraphs from Washington: "Our hearing before the Committee on Ways and Means is delayed until to-morrow. Mr. Dodge was heard to-day in reply to the attack of Jayne. His statement is a triumphant vindication of his house and a perfect showing of the iniquities of the present law, both in its provisions and its unscrupulous application. There could be no stronger blow to the informer system than his recital of the wrong done to his firm. We have the strongest hope of carrying our plans."

BAEZ'S TROUBLES.

The order of arrest against ex-President Baez of San Domingo was vacated by Judge Pratt to-day. Another order was applied for by a different party in a similar suit, laying damages at $200,000. The order of arrest was denied.

A BROKER ARRESTED.

William C. Brandon, a broker, 746 Broadway, was to-day held in $40,000 bail for having in his possession $56,000 in bonds of the Pennsylvania & Western Railroad, stolen about a year ago.

THE LAGER DEALERS APPEAL.

The lager dealers of Brooklyn appeal to the General Term of the Supreme Court from Judge Pratt's decision giving the Excise Commissioners right to revoke licenses for selling beer on Sundays.

THE MAYOR ON THE CANALS.

The Mayor's message to the Common Council to-day deals entirely with canal questions. He says if the tolls were entirely removed from the state canals the comparative freight by the Erie and Canadian canal route, approaching completion, would be $5.15 and $3.50 per ton respectively. He says nothing will now save the commerce of the city and state from this competition but effective administration and improvement of the water works. He argues for an increase of the depth of water o seven feet and a moderate reduction of tolls, and recommends legislation to this end by the present Legislature, so the work of enlargement can be begun July 4th, 1876. He concludes by urging that public meetings of remonstrance and other measures be taken to secure prompt legislative action on the subject.

UNITED STATES CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, March, 5.

The Senate resumed consideration of the liquor bill, the pending discussion being on the amendment of Bayard providing that all the members of the commission should not be in favor of prohibitory legislation or total abstinence, and the amendment was adopted—13 yeas to 22 nays.

The morning hour having expired the liquor commission bill was laid aside and the Senate resumed consideration of the Centennial bill, the pending question being on the motion of Mr. Frelinghuysen to instruct the Appropriation Committee to report a bill appropriating a sum of money not exceeding $3,000,000 to defray the expenses of the American Centennial Exhibition.

Mr. STOCKTON moved an additional amendment to the instructions submitted by his colleague (Frelinghuysen) directing the committee to report in favor of holding an international exhibition, so as to exhibit the products of the United States in comparison with those of older nations. Stockton spoke at some length in favor of an international exhibition.

Mr. BAYARD also argued in favor of an international exhibition.

Mr. STEWART moved that the Senate proceed to the consideration of executive business, but yielded to Thurman, who offered a resolution appropriating $10,000 to pay the expenses incurred by the joint select committee to investigate the affairs of the District of Columbia and asked its present consideration. After a short debate Thurman withdrew his resolution.

The question recurring on Stewart's motion to proceed to the consideration of executive business, it was agreed to—yeas 25, nays 22.

The Senate then went into executive session and at five o'clock adjourned.

HOUSE.

Resolutions were reported from the Committee on Elections in the Virginia contested election case that Davis, the sitting member, is not entitled to the seat, and that Thomas, the contestant, is. The resolutions were adopted without debate and Thomas was sworn in.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the legislative appropriation bill, Mr. Woodford of New York in the chair, and was addressed by Garfield of Ohio, Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations. He thought that he was perfectly safe in saying that the expenditures for the next fiscal year, exclusive of the sinking fund, would be reduced to $270,000,000, provided the House should assist the Committee on Appropriations on all its bills as it had already assisted it on the bills reported. The speech was continued at length, when the committee rose and the House took a recess until 7:30, the evening session to be for the consideration of the bill to revise the statutes.

THE TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT.

An Interview with Mayor Stokeley.

PHILADELPHIA, March 5.—A delegation of women waited on Mayor Stokeley this morning and presented a petition for the enforcement of the Sunday law to prevent the sale of liquor. He pointed out the defects of the present law and advised an application to the Legislature to amend it so as to be made operative. In taking leave they assured him that whatever steps he may take to crush out the evil he would have the moral support of the women. He said he had intended issuing a proclamation, but had concluded to await the result of the conference of Baptist clergymen with the Judges of Common Pleas before doing so.

THE FIGHT AT COLUMBUS.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 5.—The immense crowds which followed the crusaders yesterday induced a change of programme and this morning about two hundred ladies were divided into four squads, going into opposite directions. Each squad had its attendants in large numbers. At 12 o'clock all the squads met at the Presbyterian Church and reported. Twenty places were visited. At several beer saloons the doors were locked and admittance refused. At others the proprietors treated the ladies well and made them speeches evidently prepared for the occasion. One proprietor refused to allow prayer to be offered, saying he feared it would only cause the ladies to be insulted. One wholesale liquor dealer refused to allow prayer to be offered. Several prominent grocers said they would gladly give up liquor selling if other grocers would do so. Several saloon keepers expressed a willingness to sell out and whether this was done or not to purchase no more stock. No particular indignity was offered at any place and the ladies derived considerable encouragement from this fact. Quite a number of signatures were obtained to the citizens' pledge, but not one liquor dealer could by song or prayer be induced to sign the dealers' pledge.

At Columbus, O., this afternoon the ladies suffered the first indignity so far met with. At a saloon kept by an Italian named Corradi their voices were drowned by cornet playing, shouts and jeers, which were suppressed by the Chief of Police. A crowd of male and female loafers then collected under the leadership of Street Commissioner Aumiller and held a mock prayer meeting. At a German beer saloon on High street they were refused admittance and held service on the sidewalk, where they were surrounded by a crowd of Germans, who became violent and threatening. The police advised the ladies to desist at that point. No saloon keepers were conquered, to-day though the citizens' pledge was largely signed and a prayer meeting was held in the First Presbyterian Church all day. The ladies are becoming strong in faith and numbers. The insults offered them to-day have increased their strength. The excitement has increased. Some prominent attorneys are preparing a stringent temperance ordinance which will be presented to the Common Council for adoption.

A VICTORY AT BELLEFONTAINE.

NEW YORK, March 5.—At Bellefontaine, Ohio, to-day two liquor sellers surrendered to the ladies' crusade. One afterwards appeared at the temperance meeting and asked the prayers of the ladies in his behalf.

EXCITEMENT AT DAYTON.

At Dayton, Ohio, the excitement is intense and an aggressive movement on the part of the ladies is anticipated to-morrow, although visitation by committees is not yet complete.

JEFFERSONVILLE UNREPENTANT.

At Jeffersonville, Ind., the ladies continue visiting and praying at the saloons, but thus far no saloons have been closed. One saloon keeper to-day flung to the breeze an American flag when the ladies began their devotional exercises in front of his house and declined to surrender.

RAILROAD STRIKES.

The Lehigh Valley Trouble.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 5.—The strike on the Lehigh Valley Railroad is confined to the Northern Division. The mail train south to-day was stopped by striking brakemen. The Superintendent received notice that the brakemen at Caxton intended to stop the mail train north. Sheriff Whittaker with a posse of twenty-five men took passage on the train and when boarded by the brakemen at Caxton the ringleaders were arrested. After the train passed Caxton the Sheriff returned to Wilkesbarre with five prisoners. Two named Moneghan and Reynolds were held in $500 bail; the others were discharged. There are now seven hundred cars of coal at Caxton waiting shipment north. A proposition was made to the strikers at Waverly to go to work at ante-panic prices, but they demand ten cents per diem additional, making the pay the same as on the Erie road. No trains of any kind are running from Waverly. All the sidings between Waverly and Sayre are full of cars, with the brakes set, brake wheels taken off and switches spiked. Last evening a passenger train came up to Athens, four miles from Waverly, and was left there with a view of returning in the morning. The strikers, learning this, went down, took possession of it and brought it up to headquarters. No violence has occurred.

THE ERIE STRIKERS.

BUFFALO, March 5.—The employees of the Erie Railway who are on strike for pay due since January last held a large and enthusiastic meeting to-night. Large additions have been made to the number of strikers. There are now no trackmen, carpenters, painters or freight house employees of the road at work along this division. The meeting was one of the most orderly ever held under similar circumstances. The speakers used no harsh language nor indulged in any resentment to officers of the road here. The meeting deprecated any acts of violence towards the road or disorderly conduct in those contending for their rights. All they demanded was that they should be paid arrearages and have a fixed time set for the payment of wages and be paid promptly. A resolution was passed denouncing any attempt to interfere with passenger trains.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Continuation of the Moiety Hearing.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The Ways and Means Committee to-day resumed the hearing on the moiety question. Strong delegations from New York and Boston were present. A memorial was received from the Philadelphia Board of Trade, which will be presented to Congress, as follows:

The Philadelphia Board of Trade respectfully represents that the customs laws are confused and difficult to understand, and that the proceedings of informers and government officers acting under these laws have sometimes been high-handed and offensive to the moral sense of the mercantile community and consequently injurious to the government itself. We therefore pray Congress to revise said laws and amend them so that honest importers may not be injured in property and reputation by proceedings instituted at the instigation of men who are actuated by the hope of pecuniary profit to themselves rather than by a desire to promote the public good.

Wm. E. Dodge, of Phelps, Dodge & Co., made a long statement, giving the history of the case in which they paid $271,000 as compromise and showing the manner in which the firm had been treated by Jayne and other government officers. The narrative was listened to with much interest by the committee and Dodge was vindicated from all charges or suspicions of fraud.

THE DISTRICT INVESTIGATION.

The investigation of the charges against the District government begun to-day before the special committee.

Just before the close there was a recovery of ⅛ to ¾ per cent., Erie being strongest.—The general decline was caused by news from Washington indicating that the present amount of outstanding legal tenders would not be increased. The sudden decline in Erie was due to rumors that the Atlantic & Great Western party had failed to obtain full control of the C., C. & I. C. road at the election yesterday and that the new Board was a compromise one, and further that the C., C. & I. C. was not likely to be leased by the Atlantic & Great Western.

—The wisdom of the Yankee bell-rope was vindicated in the terrible accident on a Canadian railroad, the other day, where a car caught fire and burned seven or eight persons to death,—all because the train could not be stopped till the conductor, at much personal risk, had gone forward the whole length of it to hail the engineer.

—"The wickedest man in Chicago" has put in his claim for the title by hiring three scrubbing women to open a mock prayer meeting in his drinking saloon that he might thereby raise the wind, and give an impetus to his sales. Blasphemy is indefensible at any time, but what can be said of the man who deliberately engages in it as a source of pecuniary profit? No wonder the Chicago Times has been agitating the necessity of a new hell for some malefactors.

—Lunalilo, the late King of the Sandwich Islands, "swore off" too many times, which is but another way of saying that whiskey "fetched him" at last. He kept his pledge for a while after his coronation, but at length he went on a spree which lasted a week. During that time he slept out of doors all one night. Before his death a correspondent wrote:—"There is no doubt Lunalilo, by his unfortunate intemperance, has forfeited the opportunity to make himself the greatest king, as he is the ablest and most popular, since the Hawaiians conquered all the other tribes and established Kamehameha I. as king of the islands." He owned, also, an invaluable horse, which "knew his tracks and his manners," and it is related that he would keep his royal rider in the saddle by the most astonishing manœuvres when he was too tipsy to balance himself, and when at length his majesty became unable to sit any longer, the faithful beast would leave him comfortably against the fence and wait patiently until the nap was finished. The royal rider is taking a long, long nap now!

Kingston, Friday Morning, March 6.

A Sun item says "a duck killed a rooster in a fight for $50 in Chester, Pa." Good for the duck; but who got the money?

What would correspondents, orators and editors do without the "ostrich, Mr. Chairman, which when pursued hides its head in the sand," etc? As Whitelaw Reid said of the author of "Alton Locke," the ostrich "builded wiser than he knew." Or burrowed, should we say?

The Woodhull is on trial at last; she sits placidly before the court with her lawyers on the one hand and Tennessee on the other. Whichever way the libel suit comes out Victoria will remain a woman too far ahead of her age—what is her age?—to be appreciated by it. The Duke of Argyle, was it? said that "a woman had no business on the platform except to be hanged." Possibly; anyhow the sex is not strong enough to withstand the demoralizing influences of Wall street.

The late terrible calamity on the Great Western Railroad in which a number of passengers were burned to death and otherwise badly injured by the fall of a kerosene lamp in the rear car of a train ought at least to teach one practical thing; the firm fixing of such dangerous lamps in their places. But who ever heard of a railroad company taking notice of such little unpleasantnesses as the consumption of a dozen men and women more or less? Like the ghost of Marley, corporations have "no bowels."

Smith (Henry) having been gathered to his fathers, there is a fine opening made for Morrissey. Nothing could be better. If he does not "know a bank whereon the wild thyme grows," he knows many banks whereat the wild tiger doth disport himself. As Police Commissioner he would start with a fullness of information. Besides, his immediate appointment and possible removal from Saratoga might enspirit the Aggies to row in the regatta next summer. Smith dies, the colleges harmonize! Wonderful chain of events. Morrissey ain't in yet, though.

If an enthusiastic witness from there is to be credited, Poughkeepsie is to be congratulated on having heard a musical composition which no human ears ever heard before, namely the Eleventh Symphony of Beethoven. The witness vowed that Mr. Thomas would not have produced it even in that place only he (Mr. Thomas) knew that Poughkeepsie had an appreciation of high art in music. Will anybody down among our neighbors who listened to it, besides the witness, tell us if they enjoyed it as much as he did?

We should think so; indeed they were driven to do that thing. For inasmuch as the Prohibitory law has been a failure in Massachusetts, the Total Abstinence Society has no other resort. So they got together and "resolved" that they wished the women well in their movement. But what a lot of old idiots those men must be not to see that if the women drive rum out of the state they will vote, the next thing, and send those baldheaded reformers to Coventry! And yet the fools go on and talk about "the opinion of this Board!" As though a cracked board could hold an opinion!

We had occasion to say a sharp word or two last summer about Kate Field as a newspaper correspondent. We then expressed the opinion that she was rather prononce and loud for a lady, and a shade too sharp for the average reader. Since we have read her last letter to the Graphic cauterizing and arraigning Canon Kingsley for snobbishness and lickspittleism, we are inclined to forgive something to the spirit of genuine pluckiness and truth which sometimes shines resplendently forth in her. Mr. Macsycophant's recipe for popularity is undoubtedly the Canon's judge of success: "Like a true poleteecian, I must pretend most sincerely where I intend most deceit."

The newspaper prophets are taking time neatly by the forelock and warning us against the certain coming of the cholera this spring. We shouldn't wonder if it did come; we are in very bad shape in this country, very; nothing would be too bad for us. We are unworthy of the smallest providential favors, and if we get to dying off in two or three months from now, like shelled corn tumbling through a hopper, we shall think nothing strange of it. If the cholera doesn't come for our dirty streets it will drop down on us in the form of a judgment for our having Butler and Simmons, Jayne and Sanborn and so on. It's no use to wash up or sweep out, tain't the gutters nor the sewers—it's our national naughtiness that's going to do the business for us.

It ought to be done—the appointment of the commission to take care of our forests recommended by the Science Association which met at Portland last summer. With a prodigality nothing less than wicked the axe has been and is now being lifted up upon the thick trees all over the wooded parts of our land. In the absence of authority to check this waste it has gone on and still goes on unrebuked, to the damage of us all. What with unnecessary chopping and fires resulting from carelessness, if nothing is done to prevent it, the grand growth of trees will soon make their absence felt, as a direct loss of national riches. We are glad to see that the President has found time to prepare and send to Congress a message on this subject; and although nothing more comes of it immediately than the enforcement of existing laws, the saving will more than justify the trouble and expense incident to such a commission.

Dr. Porteous has been preaching in the wrong places to the wrong people, and so Bishops Potter and Littlejohn have notified him that he cannot hereafter be permitted to preach in the right places to the right people. Which makes it bad all around. We don't pretend to understand the ins and outs of so abstruse a question as "What is the true church?" Heavy men, loaded with Latin and polished with Greek, have been tugging and sweating at it for hundreds of years, and do not appear to have satisfied everybody yet. The Bishops have an undeniable right to prohibit Dr. Porteous from preaching in the "meeting-houses" of so notorious heretics and unregulated blowers and bruisers as Beecher, Duryea, Buddington and Storrs; for these men are known to be liars and thieves and careless respecters of common folks. We grieve to say that they are incorrigible in their ways, so that more than likely neither Bishop Potter nor Bishop Littlejohn could make them over into what they ought to be. And if Dr. Porteous is foolish enough to herd with them, what in the world can the Bishops do except what they have done: tell him to lie down in the bed he has made? Well, well! law is law and rules are rules, but—"Oh, the pity o' it, the pity o' it!"

The science of medicine loses a representative whom it can ill afford to spare in Dr. Forbes Winslow of London. His contributions to the literature of disease in a general way were various and important; but in the department of mental and cerebral pathology his natural bent of thought found a field more to his taste, and in that his finest successes were achieved. Precisely there, too, medical science has been least informed and its practice, therefore, most seriously astray. The visible effects and symptoms of disease could always be determined and a mode of treatment guessed at. But the dim border-land between mind and matter—the foggy coast where the ocean of mental and spiritual forces comes upon fleshly soundings, was a terra incognita to the dealers in sumptuary remedial agencies. Here Dr. Winslow instituted his investigations and elicited his facts. His best known work, "Obscure Diseases of the Brain," is the accepted text-book upon the subject of which it treats and has opened to the student and practitioner a mine of information in respect to that singular anomaly—the nervous system. The world of sufferers present and to come is to be congratulated that Dr. Winslow did so much good and abiding work before his lamentable death.

Senator Carpenter has just refreshed his brethren with another little chapter of that Louisiana story. The Senator is wonderfully courageous or miraculously obtuse in not modifying its tone to suit the atmosphere of a distinct and recent administration triumph. If "the Lord delivered Daniel, why can't he deliver us?" sang our colored friends the other evening. To be sure; why not? But then, you know, in the case of the mystified Forbes and his Beacon street constituency, the Lord didn't deliver Daniel. On the contrary that good man got awfully clawed and chewed up down there at Washington in the den at "the other end of the avenue." That's why we think Carpenter would show much discretion if he would only lay his hand caressingly upon the lion's mane. Then, no doubt, the pacified beast, like Bottom in the play, would "roar you gently as a sucking dove." Perhaps Mr. Carpenter wants no favors and wears a thick coat of mail under his other clothes. In such case he is safe. Isn't it curious though that after so many and so cogent speeches about it, Congress is altogether unable to find out what sort of government exists in Louisiana, or whether there is any at all or not? Is it not nearly time some practical step was taken to abate that stale scandal down South?

Another Victory for the People.

The news from Denning was a long while coming, but it is all the better now it's here. The grand little town of Denning, bigger for her inches than any in the county, returns gallant Captain Daniel Gillette by twenty-two majority. Three cheers for the Captain and the Town of Denning.

The Hog—In Articulo Mortis.

Mr. Bergh is probably the sweetest boon sent by a kind Providence to smooth the devious paths of life for quadrupedalian nature. The car and stage horses recognize him by a joyous neigh, and the captured shad wiggling his tail for the last time in the market rolls toward Mr. Bergh the final glimmer of his glazing eye in thanks for the well-meant efforts put forth by the great piscatorial preserver to prevent a fatal result to the scaly business of his taking off. Now the hardhearted hog slaughterers are to take a lesson in loving their kind. Bergh has proceeded against the proprietors of certain establishments of that sort for the cruelty they show to our porcine brotherhood. To be plain and concise, he has notified the butchers not to hang up a hog by the heels preliminary to cutting its gentle throat. The point is that the hog is known to be greatly inconvenienced and flustered by such an inartistic handling of his person. The mere right to kill Mr. Bergh reluctantly concedes, inasmuch as our hams and sausages must be more or less defunct for use. Further he concedes nothing; insisting on the contrary that the tenderest treatment in connection with all the details of his immolation upon the altar of human rapacity is due to the patient, sagacious and sensitive porker. The law—i. e., Mr. Bergh's law—we believe requires the administration of a preparatory tap on the head by the officiating butcher to render the animal oblivious to the bloody coup de grace which is to follow; and this, it is claimed, is generally omitted. A still more horrifying act of cruelty is the immersion into boiling hot water of the helpless hog before it is certain he is absolutely dead. We can specify nothing further. Enough has been said to

> To go and relieve these sad cases instanter."

All the more because ex-Mayor Oakey Hall, who is counsel for the pigs, states that he "has had experience" of hogs being strung up by the heels in the horrible fashion described, and knows how cruel and revolting it is. Of course this "experience" of Hall's must have occurred to him in some earlier stage of his historical existence, but the accuracy of his recollection of the event is not to be profanely questioned. We feel faint and sick with the subject and can only offer a suggestion or two. Let there be a regularly appointed corps of doctors to attend all slaughterings to render the hogs insensible by means of chloroform before they are hit on the head according to law. Then let the blow be delivered upon the creature's nose, where it will be most effectual from the fact that the said organ is so seldom blown. Afterwards let him be inverted and bled—the doctor standing near and keeping count of the pulse, as is the custom at all first-class executions. Then, after the body has been packed in ice for three days to ensure the extinction of life and sensibility, may come the boiling-hot water part of the delicate process. While we are aware that a lack of intimate acquaintance with the nature of the beast may have betrayed us into seeming harshness in our recommendations, we feel confident that the fuller knowledge and more lively sympathies of Messrs. Bergh and Hall will not allow their proteges to suffer on that account.

CURRENT TOPICS.

—The gubernatorial campaign in Massachusetts is commencing to blaze already. Butler clubs are already being formed.

—We feel easier now. The Boston Journal gravely assumes us the accession of Disraeli will not lead to war with this country.

—Hank Smith was such an accommodating man that if he had known how much trouble his decease would have made he probably wouldn't have died.

—It is a wonderful coincident that just as The Claimant in England has received his sentence The Claimant in Massachusetts gets his man in the Collectorship.

—The Utica Observer serves notice on Congressmen Dewitt and Perry to "prepare to git" for voting for the resurrection of the franking abuse.

—The result of the Temperance campaign in Ohio is very cheering. In 55 towns 836 drinking-places have been closed, and 15,000 persons have signed the pledge.

—The Worcester Spy and Gazette, the Republican papers of that city, want the party to throw Grant overboard on account of the Simmons idiocy.

—There is a rumor that the New York Times has been "fixed to go in for Blaine for '76." What will Conkling do now, with the leading Republican organ of his own state against him?

—The Rochester Democrat says Sam. Bowles is negotiating for the Boston Globe. He would make a good and paying paper, for Samuel has a remarkable instinct of journalism developed in a remarkable degree.

—Mr. Clapp, the government printer, seems to be clapping it on pretty heavily. It appears he has been charging Mr. Creswell from fifty to sixteen hundred per cent. more than other establishments would.

—Dr. Lewis A. Sayre, professor of orthopœdic surgery in Bellevue hospital, New York, examined the bodies of the Siamese twins in Philadelphia on Saturday, and, according to the Press of that city, he was convinced that they might have been separated with safety during life by constricting portions of the band with a silver wire until the flesh gradually was cut through and sloughed off. This process would have avoided the shock to the system, and danger of peritonitis, which was so much to be dreaded after a sudden operation with the knife.

A Riot in Poland.

LONDON, March 5.—The correspondent of the Daily News at St. Petersburg writes under date of the 28th ult. that serious rioting has occurred in Eastern Poland in consequence of the closing of churches by order of the government. At one place the disorder was so great that the military was called out and fired on the rioters, killing and wounding seventy persons.

SOUTH AMERICA.

Another War in Prospect.

LISBON, March 5.—The Brazilian mail steamer from Rio Janeiro February 8th has arrived. The probability of war with the Argentine States on account of the new insurrection in Paraguay was increasing and there was a general decline of values in consequence. Troops and vessels were going forward to Paraguay. At Buenos Ayres the elections were in progress and attended with intense excitement. Troops were being dispatched to various points on the frontier and war with Brazil was looked upon as liable to break out at any moment.—Munitions were arriving from the United States.

The cholera continued and the deaths from the disease averaged seven daily.

SPAIN.

What Carlos Proposes.

LONDON, March 5.—A special to the Times from Bayonne contains the following intelligence, obtained from Carlist sources: Don Carlos has announced that it is not his intention to impose a contribution upon the population of Bilboa when that place is taken. On his entrance into the city he will proceed to the cathedral and be crowned King of Spain. He will swear to support the liberties of the people and will constitutes a government with General Elio as President of the Council. An appeal will be made to foreign powers to recognize the belligerency of the Carlists. He will declare Spaniards exempt from allegiance to any other government than his own. He will draw $5,000,000 as the first installment of the loan previously contracted.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The New Parliament.

LONDON, March 5.—The new Parliament assembled to-day. The opening proceedings in the chamber of Peers were formal and uninteresting. In the House of Commons Henry Chaplin, Conservative, proposed and Lord Cavendish seconded the motion that Right Hon. Henry Bouverie Brand, Speaker of the last House, be declared Speaker of the present House. After eulogistic speeches the motion was unanimously carried. Hon. Percy Herbert congratulated the Speaker in behalf of the absent members and Mr. Gladstone tendered him the compliments of the opposition. The swearing of members then began. Gladstone was most warmly received by the Liberal members when he entered the hall and took his seat on the front opposition bench.

JEAN LUIE COMMITTED.

Jean Luie, the claimant's witness in the Tichborne case, was to-day fully committed for trial on the charge of perjury. Large crowds filled and surrounded the court room in expectation of seeing the claimant himself on this occasion, but the latter was not allowed to appear in court. Andrew Boyle, the old negro servant of the Tichborne family and one of the strongest witnesses for the claimant, has become hopelessly ill since the verdict was rendered against Orton.

WOLSELEY'S VICTORY CONFIRMED.

LONDON, March 5.—Dispatches have at last arrived from the Gold Coast fully confirming previous reports of the victory and dispelling the fears which were entertained for the safety of the expedition. The Ashantee King finally surrendered himself into the hands of the British troops and was a prisoner at General Wolseley's headquarters.

NO GUNPOWDER PLOT.

LONDON, March 5.—The search of the Parliament building which has been customary since the discovery of the Guy Fawkes plot was made this morning before the assembling of the Lords and Commons.

MOIETY INIQUITIES.

Wm. E. Dodge's Statement—Special Agent Jayne Dissected.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Wm. E. Dodge, of the firm of Phelps, Dodge & Co., made a statement before the Committee on Ways and Means to-day. After making an explanation of their case similar to that already published as to the amount paid as compromise and the conduct of Jayne towards the firm, Dodge said Jayne had eminent counsel. A member of the House of Representatives (Secretary Boutwell) had treated them fairly and honorably and desired them to take the case into the courts. Mr. Dodge remarked that General Butler said he had a single letter from Phelps, Dodge & Co. which was sufficient to convict them in any United States court. The firm learning what it was laughed. When the firm for the first time imported tin for cheese vats and instead of putting it in boxes it was put in bundles with strips of galvanized iron round them the appraiser called their attention to the fact that the tin should have been in boxes. To avoid future trouble they wrote to their friends abroad to thereafter put the tin in boxes with marks of their weight and manufacture. The reply came that they would endeavor to follow instructions, but the manufacturers added, "If in any respect we shall differ let us know and we will fix it." Gen. Butler now had it. "We will on this," he said, "convict Phelps, Dodge & Co. in any court in the United States." The members of our firm, said Dodge, found themselves dogged by spies in any steps they took. They could not have a private meeting of the firm at night but what it was known in that dark hole at the Custom House. There was no lawyer in their office but what it was known. One of his partners, as January came round, opened his desk and culling out such letters as he wished to retain burned the rest. They received a letter from their attorney informing them that Mr. Jayne said that Phelps, Dodge & Co. were burning up their papers and he would have them all in Ludlow street jail that night. How did Mr. Jayne know? Because he had under pay a man in their store, the second bookkeeper. They traced the fellow and turned him out of their store. He went where he was now employed. He was a clerk in the post office. A place was obtained for him by the agent of the United States.

At the conclusion of Dodge's statement the committee adjourned.

SENATE.

ALBANY, March 5.

REPORTS.

Mr. COLE, reappropriating moneys for the construction of new work and extraordinary repairs of the canals of this state, and for the payment of the awards made by the Canal Appraisers.

Requiring Canal Superintendents to publish abstracts of their official disbursements.

Mr. CONNELLY, amending the charter of the Tract Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Incorporating the Western New York Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Churches.

Amending the charter of the Sunday School Union of the Methodist Episcopal Churches.

Mr. WOOD, providing for the support of government.

Mr. WOOD moved that the bill be printed immediately and made the special order for to-morrow morning immediately after the reading of the journal. Carried.

Mr. LOWERY, incorporating the Kingston Savings Bank.

SPECIAL ORDER.

In Committee of the Whole, Mr. TOBEY in the chair, the bill altering the map and plan of the city of New York, and for the improvement of certain streets and public places therein, was considered.

After long discussion progress was reported on the bill.

Adjourned until eleven A. M. to-morrow.

ASSEMBLY.

GENERAL ORDERS—THE MIDLAND RAILROAD BILL.

Mr. LINCOLN in the chair:

Repealing act exempting the real and personal property of the Midland Railroad Company from taxation.

Mr. ALBERGER moved to strike out the second section.

Mr. WEED said he would not oppose the bill if the people along the line of the road wanted it, but he thought its passage would do harm, and there was serious doubt concerning its constitutionality. Besides, it will greatly embarrass the collection of the state tax and create a deficiency which would have to be provided for.

Mr. BEEBE defended the bill in the interests of his constituents, now burdened to an almost unbearable degree in the extent to which they are bonded for this and other roads. He went into the merits of the proposition at great length, urging that the bill was a measure of justice to the people of a large portion of the state and one which the Legislature could not refuse to pass.

Mr. WEED again criticised the bill, urging that the road is embarrassed enough at the present time without adding this burden.

Mr. BEEBE denied that this would be the effect of the bill. If the exemption upon this property is removed, so much more property would be added to the valuation, and there can be no deficiency.

Mr. WEED reiterated his opinion that such would be the effect of the bill, and objected to it for that reason.

Mr. ALVORD granted that Mr. Weed was right in a certain sense, but the state tax collected under the bill could be donated to the towns either in the Supply bill or in the General Appropriation bill, and thus it would come under the property to be covered by the state tax.

Mr. BEEBE said it was the first management of the road which is burdened. The old debt is to be wiped out, and the road will now come into the possession of the first mortgage bondholders, who will get property worth $30,000,000 for less than $6,000,000. The new proprietors of the road come into power clear of debt, and it is now a measure of justice to the people of the towns to pass this law. The result he had spoken of was inevitable, as the holders of the first mortgage securities had already taken the preliminary proceedings for foreclosures.

Mr. BEECHER said his county, which was as heavily bonded as any other, did not ask that at the present time any further tax should be imposed upon the road. He could not see his way clear to giving his support to the bill, as he did not believe in "killing the goose which lays the golden egg."

Mr. SLOAN said the city of Oswego had been assessed for the road to the same extent as the towns, and it should therefore enjoy any benefit derivable from the bill. He moved to amend the bill accordingly. Agreed to.

Mr. ALBERGER withdrew his motion.

The bill was then progressed.

Amending the general manufacturing and mining act. Third reading.

EVENING SESSION.

The House reassembled at 7:30 and the following bills were considered in Committee of the Whole and ordered to a third reading unless otherwise stated:

To amend the act relative to the disposition of lands of which parties died seized.

To prevent the seizing and detaining of canal boats under mortgage.

Regulating appeals from taxation by towns and cities and vesting power to hear them in the State Assessors instead of the Comptroller.

Providing for the appraisal and payment of canal damages to various salt companies in Onondaga county.

Adjourned.

METROPOLITAN NEWS.

A Commissioner Nominated.

NEW YORK, March 5.—At a meeting of the Board of Aldermen this afternoon the Mayor sent in the nomination of Tax Commissioner George H. Andrews as Police Commissioner in place of the late Henry Smith.

WOODHULL & CO. IN THE TOMBS.

In the case of Woodhull, Claflin and Blood, on trial for libel in the Court of General Sessions to-day, application for a reduction of bail was refused and the prisoners taken to the Tombs.

PHELPS, DODGE & CO. VINDICATED.

The special committee of the Chamber of Commerce telegraphs from Washington: "Our hearing before the Committee on Ways and Means is delayed until to-morrow. Mr. Dodge was heard to-day in reply to the attack of Jayne. His statement is a triumphant vindication of his house and a perfect showing of the iniquities of the present law, both in its provisions and its unscrupulous application. There could be no stronger blow to the informer system than his recital of the wrong done to his firm. We have the strongest hope of carrying our plans."

BAEZ'S TROUBLES.

The order of arrest against ex-President Baez of San Domingo was vacated by Judge Pratt to-day. Another order was applied for by a different party in a similar suit, laying damages at $200,000. The order of arrest was denied.

A BROKER ARRESTED.

William C. Brandon, a broker, 746 Broadway, was to-day held in $40,000 bail for having in his possession $56,000 in bonds of the Pennsylvania & Western Railroad, stolen about a year ago.

THE LAGER DEALERS APPEAL.

The lager dealers of Brooklyn appeal to the General Term of the Supreme Court from Judge Pratt's decision giving the Excise Commissioners right to revoke licenses for selling beer on Sundays.

THE MAYOR ON THE CANALS.

The Mayor's message to the Common Council to-day deals entirely with canal questions. He says if the tolls were entirely removed from the state canals the comparative freight by the Erie and Canadian canal route, approaching completion, would be $5.15 and $3.50 per ton respectively. He says nothing will now save the commerce of the city and state from this competition but effective administration and improvement of the water works. He argues for an increase of the depth of water o seven feet and a moderate reduction of tolls, and recommends legislation to this end by the present Legislature, so the work of enlargement can be begun July 4th, 1876. He concludes by urging that public meetings of remonstrance and other measures be taken to secure prompt legislative action on the subject.

—The Acclimation Society of Cincinnati lately received $3,000 worth of birds from Germany, comprising many varieties never before brought to this country. They will be turned at large next Spring.

UNITED STATES CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, March, 5.

The Senate resumed consideration of the liquor bill, the pending discussion being on the amendment of Bayard providing that all the members of the commission should not be in favor of prohibitory legislation or total abstinence, and the amendment was adopted—13 yeas to 22 nays.

The morning hour having expired the liquor commission bill was laid aside and the Senate resumed consideration of the Centennial bill, the pending question being on the motion of Mr. Frelinghuysen to instruct the Appropriation Committee to report a bill appropriating a sum of money not exceeding $3,000,000 to defray the expenses of the American Centennial Exhibition.

Mr. STOCKTON moved an additional amendment to the instructions submitted by his colleague (Frelinghuysen) directing the committee to report in favor of holding an international exhibition, so as to exhibit the products of the United States in comparison with those of older nations. Stockton spoke at some length in favor of an international exhibition.

Mr. BAYARD also argued in favor of an international exhibition.

Mr. STEWART moved that the Senate proceed to the consideration of executive business, but yielded to Thurman, who offered a resolution appropriating $10,000 to pay the expenses incurred by the joint select committee to investigate the affairs of the District of Columbia and asked its present consideration. After a short debate Thurman withdrew his resolution.

The question recurring on Stewart's motion to proceed to the consideration of executive business, it was agreed to—yeas 25, nays 22.

The Senate then went into executive session and at five o'clock adjourned.

HOUSE.

Resolutions were reported from the Committee on Elections in the Virginia contested election case that Davis, the sitting member, is not entitled to the seat, and that Thomas, the contestant, is. The resolutions were adopted without debate and Thomas was sworn in.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the legislative appropriation bill, Mr. Woodford of New York in the chair, and was addressed by Garfield of Ohio, Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations. He thought that he was perfectly safe in saying that the expenditures for the next fiscal year, exclusive of the sinking fund, would be reduced to $270,000,000, provided the House should assist the Committee on Appropriations on all its bills as it had already assisted it on the bills reported. The speech was continued at length, when the committee rose and the House took a recess until 7:30, the evening session to be for the consideration of the bill to revise the statutes.

THE TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT.

An Interview with Mayor Stokeley.

PHILADELPHIA, March 5.—A delegation of women waited on Mayor Stokeley this morning and presented a petition for the enforcement of the Sunday law to prevent the sale of liquor. He pointed out the defects of the present law and advised an application to the Legislature to amend it so as to be made operative. In taking leave they assured him that whatever steps he may take to crush out the evil he would have the moral support of the women. He said he had intended issuing a proclamation, but had concluded to await the result of the conference of Baptist clergymen with the Judges of Common Pleas before doing so.

THE FIGHT AT COLUMBUS.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 5.—The immense crowds which followed the crusaders yesterday induced a change of programme and this morning about two hundred ladies were divided into four squads, going into opposite directions. Each squad had its attendants in large numbers. At 12 o'clock all the squads met at the Presbyterian Church and reported. Twenty places were visited. At several beer saloons the doors were locked and admittance refused. At others the proprietors treated the ladies well and made them speeches evidently prepared for the occasion. One proprietor refused to allow prayer to be offered, saying he feared it would only cause the ladies to be insulted. One wholesale liquor dealer refused to allow prayer to be offered. Several prominent grocers said they would gladly give up liquor selling if other grocers would do so. Several saloon keepers expressed a willingness to sell out and whether this was done or not to purchase no more stock. No particular indignity was offered at any place and the ladies derived considerable encouragement from this fact. Quite a number of signatures were obtained to the citizens' pledge, but not one liquor dealer could by song or prayer be induced to sign the dealers' pledge.

At Columbus, O., this afternoon the ladies suffered the first indignity so far met with. At a saloon kept by an Italian named Corradi their voices were drowned by cornet playing, shouts and jeers, which were suppressed by the Chief of Police. A crowd of male and female loafers then collected under the leadership of Street Commissioner Aumiller and held a mock prayer meeting. At a German beer saloon on High street they were refused admittance and held service on the sidewalk, where they were surrounded by a crowd of Germans, who became violent and threatening. The police advised the ladies to desist at that point. No saloon keepers were conquered, to-day though the citizens' pledge was largely signed and a prayer meeting was held in the First Presbyterian Church all day. The ladies are becoming strong in faith and numbers. The insults offered them to-day have increased their strength. The excitement has increased. Some prominent attorneys are preparing a stringent temperance ordinance which will be presented to the Common Council for adoption.

A VICTORY AT BELLEFONTAINE.

NEW YORK, March 5.—At Bellefontaine, Ohio, to-day two liquor sellers surrendered to the ladies' crusade. One afterwards appeared at the temperance meeting and asked the prayers of the ladies in his behalf.

EXCITEMENT AT DAYTON.

At Dayton, Ohio, the excitement is intense and an aggressive movement on the part of the ladies is anticipated to-morrow, although visitation by committees is not yet complete.

JEFFERSONVILLE UNREPENTANT.

At Jeffersonville, Ind., the ladies continue visiting and praying at the saloons, but thus far no saloons have been closed. One saloon keeper to-day flung to the breeze an American flag when the ladies began their devotional exercises in front of his house and declined to surrender.

RAILROAD STRIKES.

The Lehigh Valley Trouble.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 5.—The strike on the Lehigh Valley Railroad is confined to the Northern Division. The mail train south to-day was stopped by striking brakemen. The Superintendent received notice that the brakemen at Caxton intended to stop the mail train north. Sheriff Whittaker with a posse of twenty-five men took passage on the train and when boarded by the brakemen at Caxton the ringleaders were arrested. After the train passed Caxton the Sheriff returned to Wilkesbarre with five prisoners. Two named Moneghan and Reynolds were held in $500 bail; the others were discharged. There are now seven hundred cars of coal at Caxton waiting shipment north. A proposition was made to the strikers at Waverly to go to work at ante-panic prices, but they demand ten cents per diem additional, making the pay the same as on the Erie road. No trains of any kind are running from Waverly. All the sidings between Waverly and Sayre are full of cars, with the brakes set, brake wheels taken off and switches spiked. Last evening a passenger train came up to Athens, four miles from Waverly, and was left there with a view of returning in the morning. The strikers, learning this, went down, took possession of it and brought it up to headquarters. No violence has occurred.

THE ERIE STRIKERS.

BUFFALO, March 5.—The employees of the Erie Railway who are on strike for pay due since January last held a large and enthusiastic meeting to-night. Large additions have been made to the number of strikers. There are now no trackmen, carpenters, painters or freight house employees of the road at work along this division. The meeting was one of the most orderly ever held under similar circumstances. The speakers used no harsh language nor indulged in any resentment to officers of the road here. The meeting deprecated any acts of violence towards the road or disorderly conduct in those contending for their rights. All they demanded was that they should be paid arrearages and have a fixed time set for the payment of wages and be paid promptly. A resolution was passed denouncing any attempt to interfere with passenger trains.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Continuation of the Moiety Hearing.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The Ways and Means Committee to-day resumed the hearing on the moiety question. Strong delegations from New York and Boston were present. A memorial was received from the Philadelphia Board of Trade, which will be presented to Congress, as follows:

The Philadelphia Board of Trade respectfully represents that the customs laws are confused and difficult to understand, and that the proceedings of informers and government officers acting under these laws have sometimes been high-handed and offensive to the moral sense of the mercantile community and consequently injurious to the government itself. We therefore pray Congress to revise said laws and amend them so that honest importers may not be injured in property and reputation by proceedings instituted at the instigation of men who are actuated by the hope of pecuniary profit to themselves rather than by a desire to promote the public good.

Wm. E. Dodge, of Phelps, Dodge & Co., made a long statement, giving the history of the case in which they paid $271,000 as compromise and showing the manner in which the firm had been treated by Jayne and other government officers. The narrative was listened to with much interest by the committee and Dodge was vindicated from all charges or suspicions of fraud.

THE DISTRICT INVESTIGATION.

The investigation of the charges against the District government begun to-day before the special committee.

Just before the close there was a recovery of ⅛ to ⅞ per cent., Erie being strongest.—The general decline was caused by news from Washington indicating that the present amount of outstanding legal tenders would not be increased. The sudden decline in Erie was due to rumors that the Atlantic & Great Western party had failed to obtain full control of the C., C. & I. C. road at the election yesterday and that the new Board was a compromise one, and further that the C., C. & I. C. was not likely to be leased by the Atlantic & Great Western.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

—Professor, said a student in pursuit of knowledge concerning animals, why does a cat, while eating, turn her head first one way and then another? For the reason, replied the professor, that she cannot turn it both ways at once.

—The Holly company has closed a contract with the village of Flushing, L. I., to supply the place with the Holly water-works. The amount of the contract is $30,000, and the machinery will be shipped in July.

—M. Deak, the Hungarian statesman, is reported as being too unwell to take any part in public affairs. His physicians do not allow him to see any strangers, and he is visited only by a few intimate friends.

—A dispatch from Lieut. Gov. Campbell, of Bengal, says that 1,070,000 persons are starving to death; all the poorer classes are beginning to feel the want of food. The News correspondent at Eastern Tirhout reports a like condition there.

—The building of new wharves at the old quarantine grounds, Staten Island, has been commenced. These wharves are to be 65 feet wide, 400 feet long, and eight feet above high water mark. The entire work will cost at least $600,000. It is understood that some of the European steamship lines will occupy these docks.

—The wisdom of the Yankee bell-rope was vindicated in the terrible accident on a Canadian railroad, the other day, where a car caught fire and burned seven or eight persons to death,—all because the train could not be stopped till the conductor, at much personal risk, had gone forward the whole length of it to hail the engineer.

—A public school room in Brooklyn has to be frequently bailed out, being partly underground; and on foggy days school has to be dismissed for want of light. According to the official report of the health officers there is hardly a school house in the whole city of Brooklyn that is decently ventilated.

—The decisive evidence against the Tichborne claimant was that of Lord Bellew, who swore that the real Roger Tichborne was deeply marked with India ink on the arm, and that he had done the marking, whereas the claimant, on examination, showed no such marks on his person.

—Negotiations are pending between a committee representing the Reformed Church in America and a committee from the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church South relative to an organic union of those bodies. Meetings began Monday and will continue daily until a conclusion is reached. The meetings are secret.

—Mrs. Myra Clark Gaines has entered a suit against Caleb Cushing, claiming $200,000 for libel in this, that in one of the recent bills filed by Mr. Cushing, he charges her with making wanton and grossly libelous accusations against himself. Judge Paschal brings the suit for Mrs. Gaines.

—"The wickedest man in Chicago" has put in his claim for the title by hiring three scrubbing women to open a mock prayer meeting in his drinking saloon that he might thereby raise the wind, and give an impetus to his sales. Blasphemy is indefensible at any time, but what can be said of the man who deliberately engages in it as a source of pecuniary profit? No wonder the Chicago Times has been agitating the necessity of a new hell for some malefactors.

—Lunalilo, the late King of the Sandwich Islands, "swore off" too many times, which is but another way of saying that whiskey "fetched him" at last. He kept his pledge for a while after his coronation, but at length he went on a spree which lasted a week. During that time he slept out of doors all one night. Before his death a correspondent wrote:—"There is no doubt Lunalilo, by his unfortunate intemperance, has forfeited the opportunity to make himself the greatest king, as he is the ablest and most popular, since the Hawaiians conquered all the other tribes and established Kamehameha I. as king of the islands." He owned, also, an invaluable horse, which "knew his tracks and his manners," and it is related that he would keep his royal rider in the saddle by the most astonishing manœuvres when he was too tipsy to balance himself, and when at length his majesty became unable to sit any longer, the faithful beast would leave him comfortably against the fence and wait patiently until the nap was finished. The royal rider is taking a long, long nap now!

CITY NOTES.

—The Baptist ladies cleared $269 by their fair and festival Wednesday evening.

—Supervisor Mellon has the fastest horse in the lower part of the city.

—Candidates for city offices are already exceedingly numerous.

—The Lark now runs unvexed to Rhinecliff.

—We are daily expecting the man who has heard and seen the first robin to call.

—Pony phaetons are again being used by our lady Jehus.

—An unusually large number of loads of hay are daily being brought to the lower part of the city.

—There are more changes in business uptown this year than has been known before in a number of years.

—The Methodist ministers of the city were absent yesterday in attendance upon the District Conference at Prattsville.

—Reserved seats for the Hampton Singers' concert in Music Hall can now be secured at Dunn's down town and Winter Bros.' uptown.

—The temperance folks uptown intend to commence work soon, and think they had better make the base of their operations at Totter's saloon.

—All the belles—and the beaux, too, of course—are going next Monday night to hear the Hampton Singers sing "Peter, go ring dem bells."

—Staples & Willis sent a specimen of their different kinds of crackers to The Freeman force on Thursday, and now those chaps turn up their noses at their usual codfish and potatoes.

—The first trout fisherman of the season left here by the afternoon train for Margaretville on Thursday. His outfit consisted of one fishing line, a navy revolver and a bottle of T. A. brandy. His name was not Pat Malloy.

—We are glad to see Robinson & Gilmore have reconsidered their purpose of leaving town, and have leased a portion of the store at present occupied by E. P. Vail on Garden street.

—Thirty men, armed with pickaxe and shovel, were at work yesterday on the new sewer being dug from the buildings of Messrs. Weil, Weiner and Edmonds on Garden street to the Hasbrouck avenue sewer, and about five hundred were standing around bossing the job.

—Now is the time when our uptown girls can gracefully drag the trails of their dresses over the dirty sidewalks, and make their male admirers wonder at the accumulations of garbage these delicate creatures manage to carry with them.

—While a chap was hunting for trophies on the battle ground in John street on Wednesday night he backed into one of the cellar windows of the County Treasurer's office, and then fell over into and partly through another one.

—The fusilade of pistol shots uptown fired by the party of drunken rioters, on Wednesday night, brought a large number of folks to their windows, and it was remarkable with what care they peeped out without exposing too much of their bodies.

—The boiler recently put in Briggs & Cummings' new works at Wilbur is thought to be the largest single boiler in the county. It couldn't be got through the toll-gates, it being thirteen feet high. It will run a 60-horse-power engine.

—The bow and arrow season has arrived, and the sportive hoodlum, placing a pin in the arrowhead, launches it from the bowstring with an aim more or less correct at the basement of his fellows' trousers. As the strength of the bowls is, so is the aim correct.

—Now that parties on the upper side of Garden street are laying a sewer to carry off the water from their cellars, why don't those on the lower side put down a similar one and relieve the chronic winter and spring trouble from their leaders and gutters? Hasbrouck's buildings on the north side also need a connection, as they are a chronic nuisance in a thaw.

Death of an Ex-New York Slave.

The Newburgh Journal of the 28th says: Charles Graham, a well-known colored resident of this city, died last night at the age of about eighty-four years. When slavery existed in this state Charles was a slave of the grandfather of Hon. James G. Graham of this city.

Steam Canal Boats.

The shipbuilding firm of J. & J. McCausland of this city have engaged to build a number of steam canal boats of the Baxter pattern for navigation on the Erie canal. Two of the boats are to be completed in May and the rest soon after. The vessels will be put in frame as soon as the timber, which is to be of the best quality, is collected, and the work will be prosecuted with the skill and vigor for which this firm is celebrated.

Gus Bruyn's 'Ciety.

The society of the First Reformed Church of Kingston was held at the house of Mr. Augustus Bruyn on Wednesday evening—at least, we suppose it was, for our reporter heard the following conversatien yelled between two boys on opposite sides of the street on Wednesday afternoon: "Say, Bill." "What?" "You goin' to Gus Bruyn's Society to-night?" "No!" "Why?" "Oh, 'cause I ain't," was the satisfactory answer. "Well, I'm agoin," screamed the first boy, and he named over a number of other boys who were also "goin' to Gus Bruyn's society." We trust the Major enjoyed their company.

Didn't Pay for the Beef.

The case of Mary Ballard against James H. Lookwood and Asa Ballard was tried before 'Squire Schepmoes on Thursday. This action is brought to recover $50 damages for the taking of plaintiff's cow by defendants, who are butchers, and at the time of the alleged trover were working for L. J. Dayton. Dayton sent them to the pasture lot of Ballard after a cow belonging to him, and the defendants by mistake took the heifer of plaintiff, and when she went to reclaim it and was only able to find the hide and a portion of the carcass dressed for the market. The defendants claim they were acting as the agents of Dayton and are not responsible for the mistake. Dayton it seems has left for other parts, and though he sold the meat of the butchered heifer somehow or other forgot to pay for it.

TEMPERANCE MEETING.

The Ohio Movement Advocated—Praying for the City Fathers—The Sunday Law to be Enforced.

There was a large attendance at the temperance meeting in the Second M. E. Church uptown Thursday night, and the audience generally showed a strong disposition to work with a will toward the suppression of strong drink. Addresses were made by Rev. Mr. Mickle, General J. S. Smith, Rev. W. H. Kingsley, J. W. Ackerly, C. H. Stall, Barney McBride, Joseph Hargraves, Andrew E. Schepmoes, John T. Bond, Mr. Fuller and a number of others. Earnest prayers were offered up by a number of gentlemen present, and also several ladies. The general tendency of the speeches was that the women should commence the work as in the Ohio movement; that they should also follow their husbands and sons to the saloons and stay there until they returned with them home. One speaker asked for prayers for the City Fathers. He thought some of them needed praying for. One speaker advocated the immediate enforcement of the Sunday law, and the prosecution of all who infringed on it. Several speakers urged that a bold movement be made to put down the "two hundred licensed rum shops in this city," and to purge from the churches those members who not only upheld the traffic, but also partook of strong drink, as their example was a most pernicious one. The following resolutions were unanimously passed:

Resolved, That the free use of intoxicating liquors has become a curse in the land and our cities, villages, towns and families are suffering under the weight of taxation and deaths caused by the effects of the liquor traffic.

Resolved, That as temperance is the handmaid of religion, true piety can have no fellowship with the traffic in intoxicating liquors; therefore it is the duty of clergymen and churches of every denomination and nationality to come out decidedly against the traffic, and to labor faithfully and untiringly for its suppression.

Resolved, That in the uprising of this temperance movement we recognize the voice of God, as where he spake to Moses, saying: "Speak to the children of Israel that they may go forward."

Resolved, That we recommend every christian woman, especially wives and mothers, to do everything in their power to suppress the enormous evil which is filling our land with mourning, and families with desolation.

The River, &c.

The ice blockade of the Hudson has been raised and the resumption of navigation between Troy, Albany and New York is expected to be resumed to-morrow by the boats of the Troy Steamboat Company. The ice broke up and drifted southward without inflicting any damage, the warm weather and rain having so weakened it it was powerless for injury. The Poughkeepsie freight and passenger steamers are making daily trips, as are also the New Hamburgh and Newburgh boats. The steamers M. Martin and Eagle of the Newburgh and Albany route are expected to be put on during the coming week and the Thomas Cornell and James W. Baldwin will resume their busines as soon as it is considered practicable by their owners. Both boats have been thoroughly overhauled and freshly decorated during the past winter, and will take their places in the line in the fine condition for which they are celebrated, and they will be officered, with the exceptions already mentioned, by the same accommodating gentlemen in whose charge they have become famous as among the most pleasant and reliable steamers on the river. Sail craft and bargemen are busily engaged in bending sails, painting and furnishing their vessels in readiness for the season's work, and an air of activity prevails along our wharves where the quiet of the winter season so lately reigned. The steamers of Cornell's towing lines to New York and Albany are rapidly being put in condition to haul fleets of barges and canal boats to and from those busy marts of commerce, and the noisy, active little tugs are awaking from their long stupor to bustle out and in the creek with their convoys. The long-suffering and not always patient canal mule in his winter retirement begins to have pleasing visions of feeds of oats as he reflectively masticates the insufficient cornstalk while standing with drooping tail and ears on the sunny side of some outlying country barn, and the driver of the animule sighs for the time when he can escape from the discipline of the district school pedagogue, cease to wear the stogy covering to his pedal extremities, and lie prone in the sun on the canal boat's cabin and "chaw tobaccer" to his heart's content. The deliberately-moving clam-sloop with its freckled-faced Jersey skipper and stomach-satisfying bivalves is anxiously expected at our wharf, and the season approaches for the voice of the shad vender to be heard in the land.

Stone Ridge Items.

Extra meetings are being held in the M. E. Church. Already some thirty have made a profession of religion and still the interest seems to be increasing. The attendance is large. The pastor has been aided in the work by several ministerial brethern. Rev. A. Ostrander of Kingston, Dr. Hurlburt of the Reformed Church of Stone Ridge and Rev. B. Bronson, a veteran of fourscore years, of Rhinebeck, were among the number.

The Musical Association, owing to the religious meetings, will not meet until further notice.

There are a good many changes this spring—not so much of an exodus as last.

An Outrage.

A delegation of Good Templars from Albany, says the Troy Press, visited the West Troy Lodge Monday evening. While waiting for the car to return home, after the visit, they stood on Spring street near Martin Tierney's saloon. While waiting at this point they started up a song with no other intention than their own amusement. The rowdies in the saloon, evidently believing that the temperance folks were besieging the saloon keepers, sent out a fellow with a handful of cayenne pepper which he threw among the crowd.—Some of it was thrown into the eyes of one of the young ladies and blinded her so severely that it was necessary to lead her home. One of the village steamers is named in honor of Mr. Tierney, the saloon keeper afore mentioned. Verily honors are easy.

Rev. G. C. Esray's Lecture.

The lecture delivered by Mr. Esray in the Second M. E. Church on Wednesday night on "Our Folks and Other Folks" was well attended, and the audience were so well pleased they are only sorry they didn't take along their families and their wife's relations. There was so much genuine humor in the lecture and in its delivery that the gravest man in the room laughed so heartily he came near having a fit of apoplexy, and several defunct candidates who were present looked as though they had run for office and been elected.

Sociable this Evening.

The Rondout Presbyterian Ladies' Aid Society will give one of their pleasant sociables at the parsonage in Abeel street this evening. Every preparation has been made by these indefatigable ladies to make the occasion enjoyable, and everybody who goes may count on a hearty welcome and a good time.

The Denning Election.

The Denning election has resulted all right, Captain Gillette being returned as Supervisor by twenty-two majority. Lewis Hammond is elected Town Clerk, Isaac Hamilton Justice, Jacob Coddington Commissioner, and Martin Maburn Collector.

Good Prices.

The New Paltz Times says at the Silas Sayder auction the average selling price of seven cows was $72 each, while one brought $100.

VICINITY.

—Scarlet fever is raging at Matteawan.

—Six lawyers ran for office in Newburgh.

—The Hudson ferry boat commenced running on Tuesday.

—Newburgh butchers are getting unpopular. Only three were candidates at this election.

—The people of Bloomville are circulating petitions against the granting of licenses.

—Kortright in Delaware county has a Farmers' Grange.

—The Seamless Clothing Manufacturing Co. of Matteawan has put in a new boiler sixty feet long.

—Columbia county still tries to harrow the feelings of her sister counties. She now claims the oldest ex-Assemblyman.

—One of Washburn's Warm Spring Indians was fined $2 in Hudson for cutting and appropriating some willows.

—The Newburgh Democrats had a big jollification over their victory at the charter election.

—Oneonta is a great place for improvements. It wants a sausage factory because it has 1,473 dogs.

—A Newburgher has started on a starring tour with trained animals, including a horse, fox, raccoon and eleven dogs.

—A prisoner bound for the penitentiary jumped from the train at Rhinecliff and ran up the hill. He was secured, but the Sheriff had to wait three hours for another train.

—The materials for the new seminary at Stamford are being gathered. The brick will be bought of Rondout brickmakers. The building will cost $10,000.

—Thomas Kelly, of Middletown, while sick wandered away from his home, and was afterward found dead in a brook of about two feet of water.

—Burglars made a raid on a house near Stamford last Saturday and stole $115. The house was occupied by the widow of David Grant.

—Some calves in the Erie freight office at Goshen got hungry and eat up the account books. Their figures were much improved, although the agent's were not.

—The Independent says that a suet butter manufactory will probably soon be started in the vicinity of Goshen by parties who have been studying how to make the thing work.

—The Trustees of the village of Lansingburgh, on retiring last week, voted themselves $25 each. Two of the Trustees declined to accept, deeming it plunder.

—It is rumored that the Erie will issue 1,000-mile tickets at $20, two cents a mile, good for one or more persons, anywhere on the line until it is entirely ridden out.

—It is rumored in Middletown that one brakeman is to be taken off each freight gang on the Oswego Midland. This was the provocation which caused the recent strike on the Erie.

—Troy has fallen back on lamps and kerosene. She put off the evil day as long as she could, but at last the gas company added a Brooklyn expert to the Board of Directors, and then all hope fled.—Brooklyn Argus.

—The editor of the Walton Chronicle says he is willing to sell his house and take his pay in Midland scrip, but he does not state how much scrip he wants for it. He might ask enough to buy the road.

—Sullivan county Nimrods are eminently philosophical. When the laws will not allow them to shoot the fleet deer they content themselves with chasing the festive and aromatic skunk.—Honesdale Herald.

—While the Fly Creek Dramatic Association was playing "Ten Nights in a Bar-Room," in a ball-room at Schuyler's Lake, recently, a portion of the floor gave way and precipitated about a hundred persons into the room below. Strangely enough, no one was seriously injured.

—The Warwick Advertiser says there is a reformed inebriate lecturing in the southern part of this county whose friends do wrong in encouraging him to peddle his ignorance throughout the county, as his ungrammatical and disconnected discourses can result only in disgusting an intelligent audience, and will do no good in the cause of temperance.

The Clerk's and Surrogate's Offices.

The committee on repairing and enlarging the County Clerk's and Surrogate's offices have decided to build an addition on the southerly end of the building, which will give ample room, for the present, to both offices, as it will make them at least one-half larger. We believe no arrangement has yet been made with a contractor to do the work, though the sooner they commence and finish, the better it will be for many persons besides the County Clerk, as the office at present is so crowded a man can scarcely turn around without rubbing the buttons from the back of his coat.

The Roads.

The roads out of town are in a bad condition, and if any one wants to take a pleasure ride he had better take with him a pair of top boots, for the chances are that his rig will need a good boost from behind. The stage driver says "There ain't any road."

The Board of Supervisors.

The Board of Supervisors will stand 15 Democrats, 8 Republicans, 2 Liberals.

Removal.

Robinson & Gilmore will remove on April 1st to the store now occupied by E. P. Vail, on Garden street, opposite the market.

Folks on the hill can get Staples & Willis' Vanilla Crackers at John H. Allen's and folks under the hill at I. Burger's. Lemon Biscuit and Ginger Snaps at R. Deyo's. Uptown people can procure their Coffee and Vanilla Crackers at Swart & Whitaker's.

CITY NOTES.

—The Baptist ladies cleared $269 by their fair and festival Wednesday evening.

—Supervisor Mellon has the fastest horse in the lower part of the city.

—Candidates for city offices are already exceedingly numerous.

—The Lark now runs unvexed to Rhinecliff.

—We are daily expecting the man who has heard and seen the first robin to call.

—Pony phaetons are again being used by our lady Jehus.

—An unusually large number of loads of hay are daily being brought to the lower part of the city.

—There are more changes in business uptown this year than has been known before in a number of years.

—The Methodist ministers of the city were absent yesterday in attendance upon the District Conference at Prattsville.

—Reserved seats for the Hampton Singers' concert in Music Hall can now be secured at Dunn's down town and Winter Bros.' uptown.

—The temperance folks uptown intend to commence work soon, and think they had better make the base of their operations at Totter's saloon.

—All the belles—and the beaux, too, of course—are going next Monday night to hear the Hampton Singers sing "Peter, go ring dem bells."

—Staples & Willis sent a specimen of their different kinds of crackers to The Freeman force on Thursday, and now those chaps turn up their noses at their usual codfish and potatoes.

—The first trout fisherman of the season left here by the afternoon train for Margaretville on Thursday. His outfit consisted of one fishing line, a navy revolver and a bottle of T. A. brandy. His name was not Pat Malloy.

—We are glad to see Robinson & Gilmore have reconsidered their purpose of leaving town, and have leased a portion of the store at present occupied by E. P. Vail on Garden street.

—Thirty men, armed with pickaxe and shovel, were at work yesterday on the new sewer being dug from the buildings of Messrs. Weil, Weiner and Edmonds on Garden street to the Hasbrouck avenue sewer, and about five hundred were standing around bossing the job.

—Now is the time when our uptown girls can gracefully drag the trails of their dresses over the dirty sidewalks, and make their male admirers wonder at the accumulations of garbage these delicate creatures manage to carry with them.

—While a chap was hunting for trophies on the battle ground in John street on Wednesday night he backed into one of the cellar windows of the County Treasurer's office, and then fell over into and partly through another one.

—The fusilade of pistol shots uptown fired by the party of drunken rioters, on Wednesday night, brought a large number of folks to their windows, and it was remarkable with what care they peeped out without exposing too much of their bodies.

—The boiler recently put in Briggs & Cummings' new works at Wilbur is thought to be the largest single boiler in the county. It couldn't be got through the toll-gates, it being thirteen feet high. It will run a 60-horse-power engine.

—The bow and arrow season has arrived, and the sportive hoodlum, placing a pin in the arrowhead, launches it from the bowstring with an aim more or less correct at the basement of his fellows' trousers. As the strength of the howls is, so is the aim correct.

—Now that parties on the upper side of Garden street are laying a sewer to carry off the water from their cellars, why don't those on the lower side put down a similar one and relieve the chronic winter and spring trouble from their leaders and gutters? Hasbrouck's buildings on the north side also need a connection, as they are a chronic nuisance in a thaw.

Death of an Ex-New York Slave.

The Newburgh Journal of the 28th says: Charles Graham, a well-known colored resident of this city, died last night at the age of about eighty-four years. When slavery existed in this state Charles was a slave of the grandfather of Hon. James G. Graham of this city.

Steam Canal Boats.

The shipbuilding firm of J. & J. McCausland of this city have engaged to build a number of steam canal boats of the Baxter pattern for navigation on the Erie canal. Two of the boats are to be completed in May and the rest soon after. The vessels will be put in frame as soon as the timber, which is to be of the best quality, is collected, and the work will be prosecuted with the skill and vigor for which this firm is celebrated.

Gus Bruyn's 'Ciety.

The society of the First Reformed Church of Kingston was held at the house of Mr. Augustus Bruyn on Wednesday evening—at least, we suppose it was, for our reporter heard the following conversatien yelled between two boys on opposite sides of the street on Wednesday afternoon: "Say, Bill." "What?" "You goin' to Gus Bruyn's Society to-night?" "No!" "Why?" "Oh, 'cause I ain't," was the satisfactory answer. "Well, I'm agoin," screamed the first boy, and he named over a number of other boys who were also "goin' to Gus Bruyn's society." We trust the Major enjoyed their company.

Didn't Pay for the Beef.

The case of Mary Ballard against James H. Lookwood and Asa Ballard was tried before 'Squire Schepmoes on Thursday. This action is brought to recover $50 damages for the taking of plaintiff's cow by defendants, who are butchers, and at the time of the alleged trover were working for L. J. Dayton. Dayton sent them to the pasture lot of Ballard after a cow belonging to him, and the defendants by mistake took the heifer of plaintiff, and when she went to reclaim it and was only able to find the hide and a portion of the carcass dressed for the market. The defendants claim they were acting as the agents of Dayton and are not responsible for the mistake. Dayton it seems has left for other parts, and though he sold the meat of the butchered heifer somehow or other forgot to pay for it.

TEMPERANCE MEETING.

The Ohio Movement Advocated—Praying for the City Fathers—The Sunday Law to be Enforced.

There was a large attendance at the temperance meeting in the Second M. E. Church uptown Thursday night, and the audience generally showed a strong disposition to work with a will toward the suppression of strong drink. Addresses were made by Rev. Mr. Mickle, General J. S. Smith, Rev. W. H. Kingsley, J. W. Ackerly, C. H. Stall, Barney McBride, Joseph Hargraves, Andrew E. Schepmoes, John T. Bond, Mr. Fuller and a number of others. Earnest prayers were offered up by a number of gentlemen present, and also several ladies. The general tendency of the speeches was that the women should commence the work as in the Ohio movement; that they should also follow their husbands and sons to the saloons and stay there until they returned with them home. One speaker asked for prayers for the City Fathers. He thought some of them needed praying for. One speaker advocated the immediate enforcement of the Sunday law, and the prosecution of all who infringed on it. Several speakers urged that a bold movement be made to put down the "two hundred licensed rum shops in this city," and to purge from the churches those members who not only upheld the traffic, but also partook of strong drink, as their example was a most pernicious one. The following resolutions were unanimously passed:

Resolved, That the free use of intoxicating liquors has become a curse in the land and our cities, villages, towns and families are suffering under the weight of taxation and deaths caused by the effects of the liquor traffic.

Resolved, That as temperance is the handmaid of religion, true piety can have no fellowship with the traffic in intoxicating liquors; therefore it is the duty of clergymen and churches of every denomination and nationality to come out decidedly against the traffic, and to labor faithfully and untiringly for its suppression.

Resolved, That in the uprising of this temperance movement we recognize the voice of God, as where he spake to Moses, saying: "Speak to the children of Israel that they may go forward."

Resolved, That we recommend every christian woman, especially wives and mothers, to do everything in their power to suppress the enormous evil wqich is filling our land with mourning, and families with desolation.

The River, &c.

The ice blockade of the Hudson has been raised and the resumption of navigation between Troy, Albany and New York is expected to be resumed to-morrow by the boats of the Troy Steamboat Company. The ice broke up and drifted southward without inflicting any damage, the warm weather and rain having so weakened it it was powerless for injury. The Poughkeepsie freight and passenger steamers are making daily trips, as are also the New Hamburgh and Newburgh boats. The steamers M. Martin and Eagle of the Newburgh and Albany route are expected to be put on during the coming week and the Thomas Cornell and James W. Baldwin will resume their busines as soon as it is considered practicable by their owners. Both boats have been thoroughly overhauled and freshly decorated during the past winter, and will take their places in the line in the fine condition for which they are celebrated, and they will be officered, with the exceptions already mentioned, by the same accommodating gentlemen in whose charge they have become famous as among the most pleasant and reliable steamers on the river. Sail craft and bargemen are busily engaged in bending sails, painting and furnishing their vessels in readiness for the season's work, and an air of activity prevails along our wharves where the quiet of the winter season so lately reigned. The steamers of Cornell's towing lines to New York and Albany are rapidly being put in condition to haul fleets of barges and canal boats to and from those busy marts of commerce, and the noisy, active little tugs are awaking from their long stupor to bustle out and in the creek with their convoys. The long-suffering and not always patient canal mule in his winter retirement begins to have pleasing visions of feeds of oats as he reflectively masticates the insufficient cornstalk while standing with drooping tail and ears on the sunny side of some outlying country barn, and the driver of the animule sighs for the time when he can escape from the discipline of the district school pedagogue, cease to wear the stogy covering to his pedal extremities, and lie prone in the sun on the canal boat's cabin and "chaw tobaccer" to his heart's content. The deliberately-moving clam-sloop with its freckled-faced Jersey skipper and stomach-satisfying bivalves is anxiously expected at our wharf, and the season approaches for the voice of the shad vender to be heard in the land.

Stone Ridge Items.

Extra meetings are being held in the M. E. Church. Already some thirty have made a profession of religion and still the interest seems to be increasing. The attendance is large. The pastor has been aided in the work by several ministerial brethern. Rev. A. Ostrander of Kingston, Dr. Hurlburt of the Reformed Church of Stone Ridge and Rev. B. Bronson, a veteran of fourscore years, of Rhinebeck, were among the number.

The Musical Association, owing to the religious meetings, will not meet until further notice.

There are a good many changes this spring—not so much of an exodus as last.

An Outrage.

A delegation of Good Templars from Albany, says the Troy Press, visited the West Troy Lodge Monday evening. While waiting for the car to return home, after the visit, they stood on Spring street near Martin Tierney's saloon. While waiting at this point they started up a song with no other intention than their own amusement. The rowdies in the saloon, evidently believing that the temperance folks were besieging the saloon keepers, sent out a fellow with a handful of cayenne pepper which he threw among the crowd.—Some of it was thrown into the eyes of one of the young ladies and blinded her so severely that it was necessary to lead her home. One of the village steamers is named in honor of Mr. Tierney, the saloon keeper afore mentioned. Verily honors are easy.

Rev. G. C. Esray's Lecture.

The lecture delivered by Mr. Esray in the Second M. E. Church on Wednesday night on "Our Folks and Other Folks" was well attended, and the audience were so well pleased they are only sorry they didn't take along their families and their wife's relations. There was so much genuine humor in the lecture and in its delivery that the gravest man in the room laughed so heartily he came near having a fit of apoplexy, and several defunct candidates who were present looked as though they had run for office and been elected.

Sociable this Evening.

The Rondout Presbyterian Ladies' Aid Society will give one of their pleasant sociables at the parsonage in Abeel street this evening. Every preparation has been made by these indefatigable ladies to make the occasion enjoyable, and everybody who goes may count on a hearty welcome and a good time.

The Denning Election.

The Denning election has resulted all right, Captain Gillette being returned as Supervisor by twenty-two majority. Lewis Hammond is elected Town Clerk, Isaac Hamilton Justice, Jacob Coddington Commissioner, and Martin Maburn Collector.

Good Prices.

The New Paltz Times says at the Silas Snyder auction the average selling price of seven cows was $72 each, while one brought $100.

VICINITY.

—Scarlet fever is raging at Matteawan.

—Six lawyers ran for office in Newburgh.

—The Hudson ferry boat commenced running on Tuesday.

—Newburgh butchers are getting unpopular. Only three were candidates at this election.

—The people of Bloomville are circulating petitions against the granting of licenses.

—Kortright in Delaware county has a Farmers' Grange.

—The Seamless Clothing Manufacturing Co. of Matteawan has put in a new boiler sixty feet long.

—Columbia county still tries to harrow the feelings of her sister counties. She now claims the oldest ex-Assemblyman.

—One of Washburn's Warm Spring Indians was fined $2 in Hudson for cutting and appropriating some willows.

—The Newburgh Democrats had a big jollification over their victory at the charter election.

—Oneonta is a great place for improvements. It wants a sausage factory because it has 1,473 dogs.

—A Newburgher has started on a starring tour with trained animals, including a horse, fox, raccoon and eleven dogs.

—A prisoner bound for the penitentiary jumped from the train at Rhinecliff and ran up the hill. He was secured, but the Sheriff had to wait three hours for another train.

—The materials for the new seminary at Stamford are being gathered. The brick will be bought of Rondout brickmakers. The building will cost $10,000.

—Thomas Kelly, of Middletown, while sick wandered away from his home, and was afterward found dead in a brook of about two feet of water.

—Burglars made a raid on a house near Stamford last Saturday and stole $115. The house was occupied by the widow of David Grant.

—Some calves in the Erie freight office at Goshen got hungry and eat up the account books. Their figures were much improved, although the agent's were not.

—The Independent says that a suet butter manufactory will probably soon be started in the vicinity of Goshen by parties who have been studying how to make the thing work.

—The Trustees of the village of Lansingburgh, on retiring last week, voted themselves $25 each. Two of the Trustees declined to accept, deeming it plunder.

—It is rumored that the Erie will issue 1,000-mile tickets at $20, two cents a mile, good for one or more persons, anywhere on the line until it is entirely ridden out.

—It is rumored in Middletown that one brakeman is to be taken off each freight gang on the Oswego Midland. This was the provocation which caused the recent strike on the Erie.

—Troy has fallen back on lamps and kerosene. She put off the evil day as long as she could, but at last the gas company added a Brooklyn expert to the Board of Directors, and then all hope fled.—Brooklyn Argus.

—The editor of the Walton Chronicle says he is willing to sell his house and take his pay in Midland scrip, but he does not state how much scrip he wants for it. He might ask enough to buy the road.

—Sullivan county Nimrods are eminently philosophical. When the laws will not allow them to shoot the fleet deer they content themselves with chasing the festive and aromatic skunk.—Honesdale Herald.

—While the Fly Creek Dramatic Association was playing "Ten Nights in a Bar-Room," in a ball-room at Schuyler's Lake, recently, a portion of the floor gave way and precipitated about a hundred persons into the room below. Strangely enough, no one was seriously injured.

—The Warwick Advertiser says there is a reformed inebriate lecturing in the southern part of this county whose friends do wrong in encouraging him to peddle his ignorance throughout the county, as his ungrammatical and disconnected discourses can result only in disgusting an intelligent audience, and will do no good in the cause of temperance.

The Clerk's and Surrogate's Offices.

The committee on repairing and enlarging the County Clerk's and Surrogate's offices have decided to build an addition on the southerly end of the building, which will give ample room, for the present, to both offices, as it will make them at least one-half larger. We believe no arrangement has yet been made with a contractor to do the work, though the sooner they commence and finish, the better it will be for many persons besides the County Clerk, as the office at present is so crowded a man can scarcely turn around without rubbing the buttons from the back of his coat.

The Roads.

The roads out of town are in a bad condition, and if any one wants to take a pleasure ride he had better take with him a pair of top boots, for the chances are that his rig will need a good boost from behind. The stage driver says "There ain't any road."

The Board of Supervisors.

The Board of Supervisors will stand 15 Democrats, 8 Republicans, 2 Liberals.

Removal.

Robinson & Gilmore will remove on April 1st to the store now occupied by E. P. Vail, on Garden street, opposite the market.

Folks on the hill can get Staples & Willis' Vanilla Crackers at John H. Allen's and folks under the hill at I. Burger's. Lemon Biscuit and Ginger Snaps at R. Deyo's. Uptown people can procure their Coffee and Vanilla Crackers at Swart & Whitaker's.

BRANCH OFFICE RONDOUT DAILY FREEMAN, John Street, upper Kingston. All orders for Job Printing will receive drompt attention

THE TRIBUNE FOR 1874.

A year ago the editor of The Tribune promised to make this journal during 1873 a much more valuable and complete newspaper than it had ever been before. Its facilities for the collection and transmission of intelligence from all parts of the world had been largely increased; its staff of editors, correspondents, and reporters had been strengthened by the engagement of some of the ablest men in the profession; and the editor was resolved to spare neither pains nor money in the effort to make The Tribune the very first newspaper in the world.

It points to the achievements of the past twelve months with pardonable pride. While The Tribune has retained all the excellent features that made it such a favorite in its former days, it has exhibited an enterprise and acuteness in its news department which have been the wonder of all its old friends. Remembering that the chief function of a daily journal is to give its readers the fullest, the best arranged, the most attractive, and the most readable history of the occurrences of the time, it has devoted its best energies to the business, and its success has been universally recognized and applauded. The year has been fruitful of startling events, and every incident has found in The Tribune its promptest, most accurate, and most perfectly equipped historian. A Tribune correspondent was the only civilian who witnessed the surrender of the Virginius, and his picturesque description of that transaction, transmitted by telegraph, is the only account the public has yet seen of an incident upon which depended for many weeks the question of peace or war. The Tribune published the only full and exhaustive account by Atlantic telegraph of the terrible Ville du Havre disaster, giving all the incidents of that catastrophe ten days before other journals received them by the slow course of mails. It distanced all competitors in its thrilling story by cable of the adventures of the Polaris castaways. It anticipated every other paper in the country and even the Government itself, by its graphic narratives of Custer's battles on the Yellowstone. The elaborate and deeply interesting letters of its special correspondent in the West gave the only complete account of the Farmers' Movement ever published in an Eastern paper. The reports of The Tribune presented the important proceedings of the Evangelical Alliance in this city with a fullness and accuracy everywhere the subject of enthusiastic praise. During the panic its daily history of Wall street made it absolutely indispensable to business men; and its special correspondents afterward described the condition of affairs in the manufacturing districts with an ability which no other paper seriously rivaled.

These are mere instances of the uniform success in the most important branch of journalism which has steadily attended The Tribune throughout the year, and may therefore be fairly taken as an earnest of what The Tribune is likely to do hereafter. Its purpose in 1874 is to surpass its previous record, constantly increasing the efficiency of its organization, adding to its resources, and keeping up its ancient celebrity as an organ of cultivated and thoughtful men, and a high authority in literature, science, and the arts. It will continue to devote especial attention to the proceedings of learned bodies, to education, to scientific discoveries and explorations, to new inventions, to agriculture, to the promotion of American industry, and to books, pictures, music, and the drama. Its financial articles have won a peculiarly high reputation, and will still be a prominent feature in its columns. Its reports of the markets have long been distinguished for fullness and accuracy, and its quotations have been accepted as standards in the cattle, produce, and provision trades for many years. Its reports of local affairs are acknowledged to be the most accurate, intelligent and complete; its domestic correspondence is always fresh and valuable; and abroad it is served by the ablest writers and keenest observers engaged upon any American periodical.

While it never can be a neutral in politics, The Tribune is entirely independent of all parties and all partisans. It believes that the mere organ of a clique cannot be a thoroughly good newspaper, and cannot be trusted for impartial and just comment upon current events. It maintains with the old fervor and will always defend the Republican principles of equality and justice with which, under the control of its illustrious founder, Horace Greeley, it was for over thirty years identified. But it values parties solely as means for procuring honest government on sound principles. For the partisans who deplore exposures of corruption or imbecility in high places as likely to hurt the party and hinder their success in holding on to the offices—who insist that a journal of their faith must follow their lead, execute their plans, and defend their acts, it has no feeling save contempt. Standing by its old landmarks, it defends the constitutional guarantees to the liberty of the citizen and the sacredness of the nation's faith with its creditors, insists on the duty of Protection to American Industry, champions all proper measures for developing the material resources of the country, urges wise mean for restricting the evils of intemperance, seeks sedulously to foster the commanding interests of Manufactures and Agriculture. But it holds itself aloof from all entangling alliances, waits on no Caucus or Convention for its opinions, aims to judge every political act of whatever party, separately as it arises, on its own merits, and maintains the liberty of candid and impartial criticism. During the present session of Congress its telegraphic reports from Washington, where it maintain the strongest force of experienced correspondents ever assembled there in the interests of a single journal, will be found incomparably more valuable and more interesting than those of any of its contemporaries. And finally, in the editorial discussion of public affairs, The Tribune endeavors to combine the utmost frankness of expression and independence of thought with a strict impartiality of judgment and that dignity and refinement of language which befit a family newspaper. It wastes no space in wrangling with other papers, pays no attention to personal abuse, and reserves its columns for its readers' interests, not the editor's grievances.

That there is a popular appreciation of that sort of independent, vigorous, enterprising, and high-toned journalism of which The Tribune is now the chief representative in this or any other country, is sufficiently proved by the results of the past twelve months. The close of 1873 finds this paper more prosperous than it has been at any previous period of its history, and the new year opens for it with the most brilliant prospects. In a short time its mechanical facilities will surpass those of any other journal in the world; and on the completion of its new and magnificent building it will be enabled to introduce various improvements of the most important character.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

The Semi-Weekly Tribune has grown very rapidly in public favor of late. In addition to a careful summary of the news it contains all the best of the foreign and domestic correspondence and leading articles of the Daily;—it gives specially the scientific intelligence (including the proceedings of all American scientific societies), with the best of the book reviews, and the miscellaneous matter relating to education, the arts, religion, &c. It has all the commercial news and market reports; all the agricultural articles of the Weekly; and gives, moreover, regularly a serial work of fiction, presenting in the course of the year three or four of the latest productions of the most popular novelists. As it takes only a few select advertisements, it is enabled to give an unusually large proportion of reading matter, and may be called, considering the extent and variety of its contents, the cheapest newspaper in the world. It is published every Tuesday and Friday, and reaches nearly every post office east of the Mississippi within one or two days of its issue.

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

The Weekly Tribune has been for the space of a generation the Farmer's favorite paper. Besides a complete condensation of the news of the week, a selection of literary and miscellaneous reading, and a full page of the best editorials from the Daily, it contains in every number a greater amount of agricultural matter than is furnished by any distinctively agricultural paper. This is prepared expressly for its columns by the best agricultural writers and practical farmers in the United States; and as its contributors are in every part of the country it will be found equally valuable in New England, in the South, on the Pacific slope, or in the Mississippi Valley. Great attention is paid to all subjects connected with the Farm, the Garden, and the Household, and some of the original articles every week are illustrated with wood-cuts. The market quotations of farm produce, cattle, provisions, breadstuffs, dry goods, and all kinds of merchandise, are exceedingly full and scrupulously accurate. The utmost care is bestowed on the typographical arrangement of the paper, and the print is always clear and legible, and generally larger than that of any other New York paper]

THE TRIBUNE EXTRAS.

A new feature has been added to American journalism by the valuable Tribune Extra sheets, which have attained such an extraordinary popularity during the past year. They present the fresh fruit of the best intellects of this and other countries, the most remarkable lectures, the most valuable scientific and geographical researches, at a merely nominal price. In the series of 14 Extras already published will be found, reprinted for the most part from the columns of the Daily Tribune, some of the latest lectures of Agassiz, Tyndall and Beecher; the explorations of Prof. Hayden, the full history and description of the Farmers' Movement, the best lessons of the great Vienna Exposition, and the complete report of the proceedings of the Evangelical Alliance. Half a million of the Extras have already been sold, and the demand for them is steadily increasing.

STEPHEN ABBEY,
HENRY ABBEY.

Rondout, Jan. 26th, 1874.

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs in Bilious Diseases.

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelminitics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

"No. 17 Arlington St., London, England. Jan. 6, 1870.

"I thank you for the opportunity of expressing my opinion of the great value of the 'NEW AMERICAN' and 'ANNUAL CYCLOPÆDIA.' I own the work and have it with me here, and am in the habit of consulting it every day to my very great advantage. It is most admirable. J. L. MOTLEY, "U. S. Minister to the Court of St. James."

"Philadelphia, Nov. 1, 1869. I consider the New American Cyclopaedia, published by D. Appleton & Co., vastly superior for the American reader to any other Cyclopaedia now before the public. REV. BISHOP SIMPSON."

"Boston, Oct. 25, 1869. I own Appletons' Cyclopaedia, and use it constantly. It should be in every library, public and private—I would say in every house, within reach of every family. The young should use it. CHARLES SUMNER."

"I use the 'New American Cyclopaedia' every day, generally many times a day. I think it the best work of the kind in existence. It is singularly well suited to families. The children who grow up in a house where there is a copy of it within reach, can hardly escape becoming well-informed persons. I value it very highly, and am glad of this opportunity of testifying my gratitude. JAMES PARTON."

"Tribune Office, N. Y. City, Oct. 30, 1869. MY DEAR SIR: I have used the 'New American Cyclopaedia' since the first volume came into existence, and deem it the best work of the kind in print. Yours, &c., HORACE GREELEY."

"North Shore, S. I., N. Y., Oct. 19, 1869. Appletons' Cyclopaedia is unquestionably the best popular manual of general reference for an American. GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS."

"Washington, Nov. 12, 1869. DEAR SIR: I quite agree with Mr. Curtis, that the 'New American Cyclopaedia' is 'the best manual of general reference for an American.' The annual continuations are also of great value. S. P. CHASE."

THE TRIBUNE FOR 1874.

A year ago the editor of The Tribune promised to make this journal during 1873 a much more valuable and complete newspaper than it had ever been before. Its facilities for the collection and transmission of intelligence from all parts of the world had been largely increased; its staff of editors, correspondents, and reporters had been strengthened by the engagement of some of the ablest men in the profession; and the editor was resolved to spare neither pains nor money in the effort to make The Tribune the very first newspaper in the world.

It points to the achievements of the past twelve months with pardonable pride. While The Tribune has retained all the excellent features that made it such a favorite in its former days, it has exhibited an enterprise and acuteness in its news department which have been the wonder of all its old friends. Remembering that the chief function of a daily journal is to give its readers the fullest, the best arranged, the most attractive, and the most readable history of the occurrences of the time, it has devoted its best energies to the business, and its success has been universally recognized and applauded. The year has been fruitful of startling events, and every incident has found in The Tribune its promptest, most accurate, and most perfectly equipped historian. A Tribune correspondent was the only civilian who witnessed the surrender of the Virginius, and his picturesque description of that transaction, transmitted by telegraph, is the only account the public has yet seen of an incident upon which depended for many weeks the question of peace or war. The Tribune published the only full and exhaustive account by Atlantic telegraph of the terrible Ville du Havre disaster, giving all the incidents of that catastrophe ten days before other journals received them by the slow course of mails. It distanced all competitors in its thrilling story by cable of the adventures of the Polaris castaways. It anticipated every other paper in the country and even the Government itself, by its graphic narratives of Custer's battles on the Yellowstone. The elaborate and deeply interesting letters of its special correspondent in the West gave the only complete account of the Farmers' Movement ever published in an Eastern paper. The reports of The Tribune presented the important proceedings of the Evangelical Alliance in this city with a fullness and accuracy everywhere the subject of enthusiastic praise. During the panic its daily history of Wall street made it absolutely indispensable to business men; and its special correspondents afterward described the condition of affairs in the manufacturing districts with an ability which no other paper seriously rivaled.

These are mere instances of the uniform success in the most important branch of journalism which has steadily attended The Tribune throughout the year, and may therefore be fairly taken as an earnest of what The Tribune is likely to do hereafter. Its purpose in 1874 is to surpass its previous record, constantly increasing the efficiency of its organization, adding to its resources, and keeping up its ancient celebrity as an organ of cultivated and thoughtful men, and a high authority in literature, science, and the arts. It will continue to devote especial attention to the proceedings of learned bodies, to education, to scientific discoveries and explorations, to new inventions, to agriculture, to the promotion of American industry, and to books, pictures, music, and the drama. Its financial articles have won a peculiarly high reputation, and will still be a prominent feature in its columns. Its reports of the markets have long been distinguished for fullness and accuracy, and its quotations have been accepted as standards in the cattle, produce, and provision trades for many years. Its reports of local affairs are acknowledged to be the most accurate, intelligent and complete; its domestic correspondence is always fresh and valuable; and abroad it is served by the ablest writers and keenest observers engaged upon any American periodical.

While it never can be a neutral in politics, The Tribune is entirely independent of all parties and all partisans. It believes that the mere organ of a clique cannot be a thoroughly good newspaper, and cannot be trusted for impartial and just comment upon current events. It maintains with the old fervor and will always defend the Republican principles of equality and justice with which, under the control of its illustrious founder, Horace Greeley, it was for over thirty years identified. But it values parties solely as means for procuring honest government on sound principles. For the partisans who deplore exposures of corruption or imbecility in high places as likely to hurt the party and hinder their success in holding on to the offices—who insist that a journal of their faith must follow their lead, execute their plans, and defend their acts, it has no feeling save contempt. Standing by its old landmarks, it defends the constitutional guarantees to the liberty of the citizen and the sacredness of the nation's faith with its creditors, insists on the duty of Protection to American Industry, champions all proper measures for developing the material resources of the country, urges wise mean for restricting the evils of intemperance, seeks sedulously to foster the commanding interests of Manufactures and Agriculture. But it holds itself aloof from all entangling alliances, waits on no Caucus or Convention for its opinions, aims to judge every political act of whatever party, separately as it arises, on its own merits, and maintains the liberty of candid and impartial criticism. During the present session of Congress its telegraphic reports from Washington, where it maintains the strongest force of experienced correspondents ever assembled there in the interests of a single journal, will be found incomparably more valuable and more interesting than those of any of its contemporaries. And finally, in the editorial discussion of public affairs, The Tribune endeavors to combine the utmost frankness of expression and independence of thought with a strict impartiality of judgment and that dignity and refinement of language which befit a family newspaper. It wastes no space in wrangling with other papers, pays no attention to personal abuse, and reserves its columns for its readers' interests, not the editor's grievances.

That there is a popular appreciation of that sort of independent, vigorous, enterprising, and high-toned journalism of which The Tribune is now the chief representative in this or any other country, is sufficiently proved by the results of the past twelve months. The close of 1873 finds this paper more prosperous than it has been at any previous period of its history, and the new year opens for it with the most brilliant prospects. In a short time its mechanical facilities will surpass those of any other journal in the world; and on the completion of its new and magnificent building it will be enabled to introduce various improvements of the most important character.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

The Semi-Weekly Tribune has grown very rapidly in public favor of late. In addition to a careful summary of the news it contains all the best of the foreign and domestic correspondence and leading articles of the Daily;—it gives specially the scientific intelligence (including the proceedings of all American scientific societies), with the best of the book reviews, and the miscellaneous matter relating to education, the arts, religion, &c. It has all the commercial news and market reports; all the agricultural articles of the Weekly; and gives, moreover, regularly a serial work of fiction, presenting in the course of the year three or four of the latest productions of the most popular novelists. As it takes only a few select advertisements, it is enabled to give an unusually large proportion of reading matter, and may be called, considering the extent and variety of its contents, the cheapest newspaper in the world. It is published every Tuesday and Friday, and reaches nearly every post office east of the Mississippi within one or two days of its issue.

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE.

The Weekly Tribune has been for the space of a generation the Farmer's favorite paper. Besides a complete condensation of the news of the week, a selection of literary and miscellaneous reading, and a full page of the best editorials from the Daily, it contains in every number a greater amount of agricultural matter than is furnished by any distinctively agricultural paper. This is prepared expressly for its columns by the best agricultural writers and practical farmers in the United States; and as its contributors are in every part of the country it will be found equally valuable in New England, in the South, on the Pacific slope, or in the Mississippi Valley. Great attention is paid to all subjects connected with the Farm, the Garden, and the Household, and some of the original articles every week are illustrated with wood-cuts. The market quotations of farm produce, cattle, provisions, breadstuffs, dry goods, and all kinds of merchandise, are exceedingly full and scrupulously accurate. The utmost care is bestowed on the typographical arrangement of the paper, and the print is always clear and legible, and generally larger than that of any other New York paper]

THE TRIBUNE EXTRAS.

A new feature has been added to American journalism by the valuable Tribune Extra sheets, which have attained such an extraordinary popularity during the past year. They present the fresh fruit of the best intellects of this and other countries, the most remarkable lectures, the most valuable scientific and geographical researches, at a merely nominal price. In the series of 14 Extras already published will be found, reprinted for the most part from the columns of the Daily Tribune, some of the latest lectures of Agassiz, Tyndall and Beecher; the explorations of Prof. Hayden, the full history and description of the Farmers' Movement, the best lessons of the great Vienna Exposition, and the complete report of the proceedings of the Evangelical Alliance. Half a million of the Extras have already been sold, and the demand for them is steadily increasing.

Rondout, Jan. 26th, 1874.

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs in Bilious Diseases.

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelminitics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

"I thank you for the opportunity of expressing my opinion of the great value of the 'NEW AMERICAN' and 'ANNUAL CYCLOPEDIA.' I own the work and have it with me here, and am in the habit of consulting it every day to my very great advantage. It is most admirable. J. L. MOTLEY,

"Boston, Oct. 25, 1869.

I own Appletons' Cyclopaedia, and use it constantly. It should be in every library, public and private—I would say in every house, within reach of every family. The young should use it.
CHARLES SUMNER."

"I use the 'New American Cyclopaedia' every day, generally many times a day. I think it the best work of the kind in existence. It is singularly well suited to families. The children who grow up in a house where there is a copy of it within reach, can hardly escape becoming well-informed persons. I value it very highly, and am glad of this opportunity of testifying my gratitude.
